JOHN HERRINGTON
Killed In Route 7 Crash.

A 20-year-old East Palestine college sophomore whose car was struck broadside on Route 7 near Route 14 Wednesday night was hurled from his auto and run over and killed by a third vehicle.

John F. Herrington of 466 E. Martin St., East Palestine, became Columbiana County's 26th traffic victim of 1967 in the mishap at the intersection of Route 7 and Route 46 at 7 p. m.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Herrington, a sophomore at Youngstown University, was headed east on Route 46 in his 1963 coach when he failed to halt for a stop sign.

HE PULLED onto Route 7 into the path of a southbound auto operated by Gary Lee Knight, 19, of East Palestine RD 1—who is in the Army stationed at Ft. Hood, Tex. — and the two cars collided.

The impact threw Herrington from his car into the path of a northbound auto driven by Blanch E. Mason, 63, of Signal Rd., Columbiana RD 2.

Herrington's car and Knight's 1961 coach were demolished in the crash, officers said.

Knight suffered abrasions of the knee and arm and lower lip.

A passenger in his car—Robert O. Birch, 18, of Birch Rd., East Liverpool RD 1 — received abrasions of the hands. They were taken to Salem City Hospital and later were treated at East Liverpool City Hospital and released.

The patrol said there were no seat belts in the Herrington and Knight autos.

The 26 fatalities in the county to date, compare with 20 at this time in 1966.

Prices Head Upward On Many Items

Manufacturers Cite Rising Costs, Labor, Freight And Taxes

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices are headed up on a wide variety of products ranging from trucks tc tennis balls.

The increases mean that the consumer will have to reach deeper into his pocket today for transportation, home building and furnishing, and leisure time activities.

Manufacturers contend that higher prices are necessary to meet rising costs of materials, labor, freight and taxes.

The price of steel bars, which are used for such things as industrial fasteners and railroad axles, just has gone up 1.8 per cent.

Earlier the steel companies had raised prices on hot rolled carbon and high strength plates, tinplate and tubular products. So far this year the increases have covered more than 40 per cent of industry shipments.

Chrysler Corp. and Ford Motor Co. tentatively raised the wholesale prices of their 1968 model cars $100, which would mean an extra $125 at retail. General Motors Corp. didn't disclose its intentions, but it was considered likely that GM would take similar action.

Chrysler and Ford said their raises were due not only to higher material and labor costs but to the antismog and safety devices required on 1968 models.

Radio Corp. of America boosted prices of 46 of its 1968 model color television sets 2 to 3 per cent—$10 to $55 on sets costing $479.95 to $1,650.

RCA said the raises were to "offset steadily rising labor and material costs which have spiraled far beyond our expectations in the past 90 days since we priced our 1968 models."

Arbitration Bid Of UAW Is Rejected

Long Strike Could Affect Steel, Rail, Truck Industries

By BILL SIMMONS

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union struck Ford Motor Co. today, paralyzing operations in 25 states.

Negotiations were in recess with no new talks scheduled.

The walkout stopped production at Ford, which normally produces 8,000 cars a day, and raised the possibility of damage to its standing in the highly competitive market that General Motors and Chrysler will continue to feed with 1968 models.

As it lengthens, effects of the strike could spread through the steel, trucking and railroad industries which Ford uses heavily for materials and transport of its cars.

The company, second in size to GM in the automaking field, was last struck nationally in 1961.

Just 30 minutes before the Wednesday midnight expiration of the old three-year contract, Ford rejected a proposal by UAW President Walter P. Reuther for binding arbitration to dissolve the impasse.

By then, and with no sign of progress in eight weeks of bargaining, many of the UAW's 159,000 members at Ford plants already had walked off the job anticipating the strike.

President Johnson has said he fears the stoppage will damage the nation's economy.

Minutes after the strike began, Reuther told newsmen at Ford headquarters in suburban Dearborn that he was "most disappointed."

He had said earlier this year "this union is going to be tested like it has never been tested before," and he told the news con-

In Appeal Hearing

Corak, Officer Tell Of Dispute

BEAVER — Midland Mayor Eli Corak and Patrolman Sam Ratkovich related in Beaver County Court this morning details of their argument Jan. 25 which resulted in a suspension of the police officer for three days.

They testified before Judge James Rowley on the officer's appeal of the suspension without pay by the mayor.

About 40 attended the hearing in Courtroom 4, during which the mayor said the officer was "belligerant, arrogant and insulting" in his remarks. Ratkovich said the mayor refused to listen to him and showed favoritism to other officers.

THE SPECIFIC charges against Ratkovich by Corak were that he had claimed the mayor showed "favoritism," that Ratkovich had argued over operations of the police department, that he had refused to return to work when ordered and refused to obey an order given March 1, 1966.

Corak was first on the stand, questioned by Midland Solicitor Frank Suffoletta.

The testimony dealt with the conversation between Corak and the police officer Jan. 25 outside the mayor's home in the Midland Ave. Apartments.

The Mayor testified Ratkovich drove up in the police cruiser and said he wanted to talk to him. Corak said he told the officer he didn't have time because he was on his way to work.

HE SAID the officer accused him of listening to others with complaints, but not to him. Corak said the officer was disturbed over the way the police handled the fire whcih leveled Deramo's Restaurant.

The Mayor said he told the officer to go back to work, that he had no time to get involved. Corak said he referred to Ratkovich's previous work record at the Crucible Steel Co., but Atty. Robert Kunzelman of Beaver, counsel for Ratkovich ob-

Dog Faces Day In Court

HASTINGS, Pa. (AP)— A German Shepard charged in a $150 robbery gets his day in court Friday.

Police arrested the dog, Ohio, Wednesday when they couldn't find his master, who they believe responsible for the Labor Day break-in at the Hastings Moose Hall.

The place was left a shambles, but there were few clues besides the muddy paw prints state police discovered on the floor.

They dutifully checked out the prints and matched them against a dog they found.

No one knew where the owner was, so the dog was booked and locked up. Since police don't know his name, they're calling the dog "Ohio" because of his Ohio registration tag.

Some television reporters tried to bail him out Wednesday but they were short of funds. Ron Stephenson, news director of WJAC - TV in nearby Johnstown, said he would return today to post $200 bond.

But William Shatig, an attorney in Ebensburg, the Cambria County seat about 10 miles south of here, told the police it was illegal to set bond before giving the dog a hearing.

So Justice of the Peace George Chigas of Hastings scheduled a preliminary arraignment for 2 p.m. Friday.

~~188~~ Communists, 70 ~~Leathernecks~~ Killed

U.S. Marines, 4,000 North Viet Regulars Locked In Fierce Battle

SAIGON (AP) — American Marines and some 4,000 freshly equipped North Vietnamese regulars locked in a fierce battle over the blood-stained rice paddies of the Que Son valley today with 180 Communist soldiers and 70 Marines reported killed.

More than two battalions of Marines sweeping through the paddies and bamboo stands west of Tam Ky hit the Communist force late Wednesday. The battle raged through the night with the Marines and the North Vietnamese alternately charging.

There was frequent hand-to-hand fighting beneath the flickering yellow glow of parachute flares.

The battle raged less than a mile from the scarred field where 150 North Vietnamese soldiers were cut down Monday and Tuesday. The Reds have lost 338 killed and 23 captured in the valley in these two battles, and 219 Viet Cong were killed and 16 captured in an abortive attack on the town of Tam Ky early Wednesday.

Marine casualties in the Que Son valley fighting now total 124 killed and 278 wounded.

The battle 30 miles below Da Nang in the northern war zone was the only significant fight listed in the day's war communique. A storm over North Vietnam limited American air strikes Wednesday to 64—the leanest day in three months—but U.S. Air Force Thunderchiefs blew up tracks on the approaches to the Lang Con railroad bridge only 25 miles from the Red Chinese border.

U.S. headquarters reported 157 Americans died in action last week and 1,568 were wounded, about an average casualty figure despite the lull in the fighting during that period. But enemy casualties of 1,055 killed were reported, nearly 500 less than the week before and the lowest enemy total since last April.

The U.S. casualty totals were up from 125 reported killed and 1,078 wounded a week earlier.

Enemy casualties last week were 1,507 in the previous week. The enemy total was the lowest since the week ending last April 22, when 980 were reported killed.

Action in the ground war had been relatively light for about two months until early this week, when Communist forces began showing signs of readiness for renewed action in the northern zone defended by the Marines.

Marine officers said many of the Communist dead found on the battlefield today were new, freshly cleaned uniforms. Some of the equipment was brand new, including Chinese gas masks, field radios and submachine guns.

Although the Marines estimated that about 4,000 North Vietnamese were engaged in the fight, they identified elements of three units—the 1st, 3rd and 21st regiments of the 2nd Infantry Division. This meant that perchaps 9,000 Red troops were in the immediate area.

The battle apparently was joined when a Marine battalion on the move was struck on its right flank by a savage attack. Although the Marines hit hard, one company pushed out and charged into the exposed flank of the attacking Reds and rolled it up, killing 50 of the enemy in one sudden surge without losing a man.

The Communists used tear gas in one action, but the Marines were wearing gas masks.

Marine planes, artillery and helicopter gunships supplied continuous support. The heavy fighting broke off at 4 a.m. after 12 hours of constant combat, but sporadic contacts continued during the day.

The Que Son valley is a fertile plain leading from the coast into irregularly bunched foothills about 15 to 25 miles inland. In the past several months two big sweeps have been made through the valley, netting enemy 1,566 dead. Now the re-equipped Communist forces in the area appear to be making another effort to wrest control from the Marines.

Meanwhile, U.S. Commanders announced that a search operation 26 miles east of Saigon had found the bodies of an eight-man U.S. Army patrol that disappeared two days ago.

Car Plunges Into Creek, Driver Hurt

An Irondale area driver escaped with a sore shoulder and wet clothes when his car veered off Route 213, across a parking area and into 30 feet of water in Yellow Creek early this morning.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Wintersville said Scott Raymond Clutter, 21, of Irondale RD 1 was headed northeast on Route 213 about 4:15 a. m. and was rounding a curve when his 1961 sedan went off the left side of the highway.

It veered across 35 feet of the gravel parking site and over the embankment into the creek, the car submerging.

Officers said Clutter jumped out but got wet. He suffered a shoulder injury, but said he would attend to treatment at a hospital by himself.

Each Blames Other For Firing

Arab-Israeli Cease-Fire Broken Twice In 2 Days

By The Associated Press

The Arab-Israeli cease-fire was breached again Wednesday night and today by firing across the Suez Canal and the Jordan River.

Israel and Egypt each blamed the other for the firing across the canal. An Egyptian communique said five civilians were wounded slightly and several buildings hit in a two-hour machine-gun and artillery duel near Ismailia, midway along the canal. No Israeli casualties were reported.

The shooting ended at midnight after intervention by U.N. cease-fire observers. Each nation prepared a complaint to the United Nations.

An Israeli spokesman said Jordanian troops opened fire on an Israeli patrol today about 3½ miles south of the Allenby Bridge in the Jericho region. The Israelis returned the fire, he said, and there were no Israeli casualties.

There was no immediate comment from Jordan.

Schladen Reports To Chester Board

Water Service Launched For Lawrenceville Area

The Lawrenceville Public Service District has begun supplying water to customers, William Schladen, chairman of the board of trustees, disclosed Wednesday night as he spoke during the meeting of the Chester Water and Sewage Board.

Schladen said installation of lines for service to residents and fire protection in the area, nearly has been completed by R. K. McKee of Columbiana, who was awarded a contract in the spring.

Schladen reported the 220,000-gallon standpipe is about half full. A pump produces 6,000 gallons an hour, he added.

Schladen said the water is available to all the district's residents and explained that those who presently are not being served are making the transition from their well to the district's lines.

About 25 fire hydrants are provided for the area's protection.

The board of trustees — Schladen, Donald Shaw and Elwood Fox — have agreed to pay the

'September Song' Has Pleasing Sound

The weatherman's "September Song" would be a likely candidate for a top spot on the old "Hit Parade" so far as local and district residents are concerned.

Over and over one hears the enjoyable lyrics: "Fair and mild with sunny skies."

The music will continue to go 'round and 'round on that theme tonight and Friday.

Tonight's low will be in the 50's.

Bullet Taken From Patient May Be Clue

LEETONIA — Ballistic experts will determine today if a bullet removed from a patient at New Castle Hospital was fired Sunday night at St. Patrick's Church rectory on W. Main St.

Chief of Police Allen Gibson obtained the slug at the hospital Wednesday afternoon and left immediately for the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation at London.

Fr. Thomas Beldue, new pastor of the parish, emptied a .25-caliber pistol at two armed intruders, one dressed as a priest and the other masked.

Police said Fr. Beldue said neither man spoke a word and fled in a car after the exchange of gunfire in the kitchen. The priest is certain he wounded the "priest" at least twice and probably hit the other. One bullet grazed Fr. Beldue's head.

Deadline Set Sept. 14 For Fall Ballot Issue

State law sets a deadline Thursday, Sept. 14, for submission of any tax levy for a spot on the Nov. 7 general election ballot, the County Election Board reminded subdivisions today.

Twenty - eight special questions and issues already are listed for the fall ballot. They include a statewide proposition on legislative reapportionment and several issues certified from Mahoning County school districts which "overlap" into small segments of territory in Columbiana County.

A "sit-in" continued today at Negley Elementary School in the second day of a dispute between parents and the East Palestine Board of Education over the transportation of 16 fourth grade pupils.

Thirteen fourth graders and their parents continued to sit-in at the school gymnasium after the Board of Education attempted to bus the pupils to East Palestine in order to provide what it termed a better "teacher - pupil" ratio.

School Supt. Harry S. Laber said late this morning, he traveled to Negley and read to the parents two state regulations concerning trespassing and

Schladen Reports To Chester Board

Water Service Launched For Lawrenceville Area

The Lawrenceville Public Service District has begun supplying water to customers, William Schladen, chairman of the board of trustees, disclosed Wednesday night as he spoke during the meeting of the Chester Water and Sewage Board.

Schladen said installation of lines for service to residents and fire protection in the area, nearly has been completed by R. K. McKee of Columbiana, who was awarded a contract in the spring.

Schladen reported the 220,000-gallon standpipe is about half full. A pump produces 6,000 gallons an hour, he added.

Schladen said the water is available to all the district's residents and explained that those who presently are not being served are making the transition from their well to the district's lines.

About 25 fire hydrants are provided for the area's protection.

The board of trustees — Schladen, Donald Shaw and Elwood Fox — have agreed to pay the

'September Song' Has Pleasing Sound

The weatherman's "September Song" would be a likely candidate for a top spot on the old "Hit Parade" so far as local and district residents are concerned.

Over and over one hears the enjoyable lyrics: "Fair and mild with sunny skies."

The music will continue to go 'round and 'round on that theme tonight and Friday.

Tonight's low will be in the 50's.

Bullet Taken From Patient May Be Clue

LEETONIA — Ballistic experts will determine today if a bullet removed from a patient at New Castle Hospital was fired Sunday night at St. Patrick's Church rectory on W. Main St.

Chief of Police Allen Gibson obtained the slug at the hospital Wednesday afternoon and left immediately for the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation at London.

Fr. Thomas Beldue, new pastor of the parish, emptied a .25-caliber pistol at two armed intruders, one dressed as a priest and the other masked.

Police said Fr. Beldue said neither man spoke a word and fled in a car after the exchange of gunfire in the kitchen. The priest is certain he wounded the "priest" at least twice and probably hit the other. One bullet grazed Fr. Beldue's head.

Deadline Set Sept. 14 For Fall Ballot Issue

State law sets a deadline Thursday, Sept. 14, for submission of any tax levy for a spot on the Nov. 7 general election ballot, the County Election Board reminded subdivisions today.

Twenty - eight special questions and issues already are listed for the fall ballot. They include a statewide proposition on legislative reapportionment and several issues certified from Mahoning County school districts which "overlap" into small segments of territory in Columbiana County.

Will Assist Program

Industry Moves To Hire Planner

Industry Council agreed to hire a borough planner when it met Wednesday night.

He will be engaged through Michael Baker Jr., Inc., and will assist in preparing zoning ordinances, subdivision ordinances and recreation programs.

Borough Engineer Charles Holman reported on state regulations for the installation of septic tanks and explained the borough does not need an ordinance since state regulations must be followed. However, he said an ordinance will be needed to collect fees for inspection of the tanks.

He also reported on the sewage ordinance already in effect at Ohioville.

Both these studies were made at the request of Homer Paul, council president. Council referred the reports to the legislative and community planning committee.

Fire Chief William Keagy screened films on the fire at the Bacon home on Russell Hill Rd. in Industry Borough. A request to take the borough truck to the fire school in New Brighton Sept. 23-24 was approved. Fire coverage for the borough will be provided by the Midland and Vanport departments while the truck is absent.

The mayor reported 13 complaints for August, three accidents and eight arrests. The cruiser traveled 2,505 miles.

James Muns, vice president, announced a special meeting will be held next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. The agenda will include a discussion of the purchase of a new cruiser to replace the one demolished recently.

Police Chief Ray Hendershot and Patrolmen Roy Hohenshel and Marko Ratkovich each was granted a $10-a-month increase in pay.

Thomas Hanner and Muns will attend the Beaver County Borough Associations dinner in Midland Sept. 22 at the St. Anthony Club.

The next regular meeting will be Oct. 4 at the Borough Building.

Romney Slates Ohio Stop On Nation Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan has included an Ohio stop in his coming tour to look at the heart of the nation's cities.

In a news conference here Wednesday, Romney said he'll visit Vienna, Ohio, near Youngstown, Sept. 13, as part of his tour. Romney said he's delaying a European trip in order to visit American cities.

Police Chief William Webster was authorized to purchase two tear gas streamers and a gun holster for the cruiser. He requested council notify the West Virginia Road Commission "No Passing" signs are needed on Ridge Ave.

Council changed its regular meeting date from the first Wednesday of each month to the first Monday, at the request of the ministerial association, which pointed out church services are held on Wednesdays preventing ministers from attending the sessions.

Mayor Arthur Watson lauded members of Council and others who have donated labor for work being completed at the sewage plant. He noted work on Clay St. hill will be halted until the plant is finished.

Councilman Dean Chamberlain reported a new bookkeeping system is being instituted.

Watson said members of council, the recreation board and local teen-agers will meet Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the community building.

The next Council meeting will be Oct. 2 at the city building.

Celotex Eyes Expansion At Chester Plant

Mark Farley, district sales manager of the Celotex Corp., was guest speaker during a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night.

Farley told members, with the purchase by his company of the Allied Chemical Co.'s Barrett Division, there are now 22 Celotex plants across the country.

Future plans call for increased production at the Chester facility, he added, with the hope of raising the number of employes by 50 per cent.

The monthly payroll now averages $8,000 for hourly workers.

The company's products go to architects as well as residential, commercial and institutional builders.

Celotex has a national sales organization with offices in principal cities around the country, Farley declared. He said it also maintains extensive research facilities at Des Plaines, Ill.

Sixteen attended Tuesday's meeting Thayer Allison is president.

New Troops Due In Viet To Be Mostly Front-Line

SAIGON (AP) — The 45,000 to 50,000 new U.S. troops ticketed for duty in South Vietnam by early next spring will include a larger percentage of front-line combat men than ever before.

At least 75 per cent of the new troops--probably 20 battalions or more—will be "trigger pullers," it was learned today.

The reason for the increase in combat soldiers is that over the last two years the United States had to build an enormous logistics base as well as help fight the war. The logistics base is now said to be capable of supporting the new combat troops with a proportionately much smaller increase in its own strength.

At the same time, it also was learned that the U.S. Command believes the estimated enemy strength in South Vietnam is perhaps much lower than the 297,000 carried in weekly U.S.headquarters reports over the past several weeks.

It is known that some high-ranking U.S. officers feel the figure is meaningless because it includes at least 57,000 men and women who are political cadres and administrative types.

American intelligence lists 120,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong main force units in South Vietnam, plus another 120,000 local guerrillas.

The American command, it is understood, now has a much larger base of solid intelligence, including more documents, better interrogators and more informers. A broad new intelligence analysis of the enemy strength is being made and results are expected to be made public in a month.

The new American forces scheduled for Vietnam will include several helicopter units. The U.S. Command wants to get the new troops into South Vietnam as soon as possible.

There is no target date, but by present reckoning, barring unforeseen logistical problems, all of the new troops can be expected in the country by next March or April instead of July as earlier indicated. One new Army brigade, the 198th Light Infantry, is expected here by the end of this year.

The command now lists 462,000 U.S. troops in South Vietnam, as of the week ending Aug. 26. There are another 69,000 U.S. military men involved in air war operations out of Thailand and Guam and aboard destroyers and cruisers bombarding the North Vietnamese coast, and aboard carrier units in the Gulf of Tonkin.

Could Increase To 2 Million

Teacher Disputes Give 600,000 Extra Vacation

By The Associated Press

Classes have been postponed for more than 600,000 youngsters as several of the nation's school systems have closed because of teacher salary disputes. The number could increase to more than two million by next week.

Detroit School Supt. Norman Drachler put off indefinitely today's scheduled school opening for 300,000 youngsters. In New York a deadlock continued toward a Monday deadline.

Michigan was the hardest hit of the states, with almost a half-million youngsters in some 17 districts on extended vacations "until further notice." Teachers picketed in some Michigan cities.

In New York the Board of Education accepted a proposal by Mayor John V. Lindsay's mediation panel for a two-year, $125-million contract between the teachers union and the board.

In a telegram to the United Federation of Teachers the board called for a membership vote on the proposal. The union agreed to the vote but predicted the rank and file would reject it as the negotiating team had earlier.

The package would boost most teachers' salaries by $1,050 over two years to a starting $6,600 next September. The teachers had called for a scale from $7,500 to $15,000.

The union is also seeking a say in educational policy. The teachers have threatened a mass resignation for the scheduled opening Monday to circumvent a state law prohibiting strikes by public employe unions.

Michigan also has a statute prohibiting strikes by public employes but the measure has never been tested and does not outline penalties.

Detroit teachers have rejected a Detroit Board of Education contract offer of a $6,400 to $10,100 salary range. The current scale is $5,800 to $9,500 after 11 years. The Board of Education and Detroit Federation of Teachers reported little progress in negotiations Wednesday.

Some 24,000 pupils in East St. Louis, Ill., continued to remain home from school as a dispute there went into its ninth day. More than 600 of the 850 teachers in the system have stayed away from schools in a salary dispute.

Youngsters were going to beaches or playing in school playgrounds also in Broward County, Fla. Fort Lauderdale teachers rejected Wednesday a plea by the county school board to return to work.

The board voted to keep the schools closed to the 90,000 pupils until Sept. 25. Of the 4,000 teachers in the county, 2,732 submitted resignations Tuesday.

Home, Clothing Theme To Mark Meeting At OSU

LISBON — Ann Overturf, Columbiana County extension agent for home economics, says two areas of interest to women—home and clothing—will be highlighted during the farm science review Sept. 19-21, at the Ohio State University farm in northwest Franklin County.

"The today look in home and clothing" is the general theme for four programs to be presented daily in the home economics tent.

Remodeling and decorating discussions are scheduled for 10 and 11 a.m., respectively, and programs on clothing at 1 and 2 p.m.

Exhibits from the OSU School of Home Economics and the Cooperative Extension service will be on display.

Miss Overturf said homemakers also will see a panorama of horticulture — from annual flowers to fruit and vegetable processing; the conservation and recreation area with a 1¾-acre shelter house; science exhibits from the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, and the display of $4 million worth of farm machinery, implements and supplies.

John Yovicsin, a native of Steelton, Pa., is in his 16th season as a head football coach. He coached Gettysburg five years and the last 10 at Harvard.

LBJ Starts Vacation At Texas Ranch

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — As President Johnson began a brief vacation at his Texas ranch, White House aides stated administration thinking on two critical issues—Vietnam peace moves and the U.S. economy.

Johnson, who bypassed his usual trip home over Labor Day, flew to the ranch Wednesday night to join his wife, who arrived a day earlier aboard a commercial airliner.

Johnson's break from White House routine coincides with the latter stages of the 10-day Labor Day recess by Congress, which won't return until Monday. That's the day Johnson must be back to welcome visiting King Constantine of Greece for private talks and a luncheon.

While Johnson was preparing to leave, the White House released a report in which administration economists claimed new evidence of a strong economic expansion in the weeks ahead.

The report was issued two days after the International Monetary Fund indicated concern the U.S. economy would not expand satisfactorily in the last half of the year.

Bicyclist Hurt, 3 Others Treated

A LaCroft boy hurt in a bicycle accident and three other area residents were treated at City Hospital Wednesday.

Jack Sailing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sailing of 5th Ave., LaCroft, sustained a laceration of the lip and abrasions of the right arm and left leg in the bicycle mishap.

Also treated were Harry E. Crawford of East Liverpool RD 3, employed by the Babcock and Wilcox Co. of New York, a contusion of the left hip and knee while working at the Ohio Edison plant at Stratton; Cindy Jackson of East Liverpool RD 4, abrasions of the left knee in a fall on barbed wire, and Betty Stark of 1220 Commerce St., Wellsville, a dog bite on the left arm.

There is no target date, but by present reckoning, barring unforeseen logistical problems, all of the new troops can be expected in the country by next March or April instead of July as earlier indicated. One new Army brigade, the 198th Light Infantry, is expected here by the end of this year.

The command now lists 462,000 U.S. troops in South Vietnam, as of the week ending Aug. 26. There are another 69,000 U.S. military men involved in air war operations out of Thailand and Guam and aboard destroyers and cruisers bombarding the North Vietnamese coast, and aboard carrier units in the Gulf of Tonkin.

Could Increase To 2 Million

Teacher Disputes Give 600,000 Extra Vacation

By The Associated Press

Classes have been postponed for more than 600,000 youngsters as several of the nation's school systems have closed because of teacher salary disputes. The number could increase to more than two million by next week.

Detroit School Supt. Norman Drachler put off indefinitely today's scheduled school opening for 300,000 youngsters. In New York a deadlock continued toward a Monday deadline.

Michigan was the hardest hit of the states, with almost a half-million youngsters in some 17 districts on extended vacations "until further notice." Teachers picketed in some Michigan cities.

In New York the Board of Education accepted a proposal by Mayor John V. Lindsay's mediation panel for a two-year, $125-million contract between the teachers union and the board.

In a telegram to the United Federation of Teachers the board called for a membership vote on the proposal. The union agreed to the vote but predicted the rank and file would reject it as the negotiating team had earlier.

The package would boost most teachers' salaries by $1,050 over two years to a starting $6,600 next September. The teachers had called for a scale from $7,500 to $15,000.

The union is also seeking a say in educational policy. The teachers have threatened a mass resignation for the scheduled opening Monday to circumvent a state law prohibiting strikes by public employe unions.

Michigan also has a statute prohibiting strikes by public employes but the measure has never been tested and does not outline penalties.

Detroit teachers have rejected a Detroit Board of Education contract offer of a $6,400 to $10,100 salary range. The current scale is $5,800 to $9,500 after 11 years. The Board of Education and Detroit Federation of Teachers reported little progress in negotiations Wednesday.

Some 24,000 pupils in East St. Louis, Ill., continued to remain home from school as a dispute there went into its ninth day. More than 600 of the 850 teachers in the system have stayed away from schools in a salary dispute.

Youngsters were going to beaches or playing in school playgrounds also in Broward County, Fla. Fort Lauderdale teachers rejected Wednesday a plea by the county school board to return to work.

The board voted to keep the schools closed to the 90,000 pupils until Sept. 25. Of the 4,000 teachers in the county, 2,732 submitted resignations Tuesday.

Home, Clothing Theme To Mark Meeting At OSU

LISBON — Ann Overturf, Columbiana County extension agent for home economics, says two areas of interest to women—home and clothing—will be highlighted during the farm science review Sept. 19-21, at the Ohio State University farm in northwest Franklin County.

"The today look in home and clothing" is the general theme for four programs to be presented daily in the home economics tent.

Remodeling and decorating discussions are scheduled for 10 and 11 a.m., respectively, and programs on clothing at 1 and 2 p.m.

Exhibits from the OSU School of Home Economics and the Cooperative Extension service will be on display.

Miss Overturf said homemakers also will see a panorama of horticulture — from annual flowers to fruit and vegetable processing; the conservation and recreation area with a 1¾-acre shelter house; science exhibits from the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, and the display of $4 million worth of farm machinery, implements and supplies.

John Yovicsin, a native of Steelton, Pa., is in his 16th season as a head football coach. He coached Gettysburg five years and the last 10 at Harvard.

LBJ Starts Vacation At Texas Ranch

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — As President Johnson began a brief vacation at his Texas ranch, White House aides stated administration thinking on two critical issues—Vietnam peace moves and the U.S. economy.

Johnson, who bypassed his usual trip home over Labor Day, flew to the ranch Wednesday night to join his wife, who arrived a day earlier aboard a commercial airliner.

Johnson's break from White House routine coincides with the latter stages of the 10-day Labor Day recess by Congress, which won't return until Monday. That's the day Johnson must be back to welcome visiting King Constantine of Greece for private talks and a luncheon.

While Johnson was preparing to leave, the White House released a report in which administration economists claimed new evidence of a strong economic expansion in the weeks ahead.

The report was issued two days after the International Monetary Fund indicated concern the U.S. economy would not expand satisfactorily in the last half of the year.

Bicyclist Hurt, 3 Others Treated

A LaCroft boy hurt in a bicycle accident and three other area residents were treated at City Hospital Wednesday.

Jack Sailing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sailing of 5th Ave., LaCroft, sustained a laceration of the lip and abrasions of the right arm and left leg in the bicycle mishap.

What Makes A Slum?

Paraphrasing the words of a song that became popular a few months ago, what the world needs now is perspective, true perspective.

The standards used by antagonists who deride the shortcomings of the American system and society in many cases are not realistic.

They compare in the abstract rather than in a relative sense. They are not in true perspective.

Our political system is chastised because it is less than perfect. People forget to compare it to a dictatorship.

The American system of justice is criticized for not assuring "proper" handling of each case. It is never compared with an inquisition.

When people criticize today's slum conditions, they compare them to gleaming blocks of neat apartments, clean streets and groomed lawns.

The question of what can be accomplished with existing conditions is not taken into account.

No one can wave a magic wand and produce a new city. No one can roll up slums and install street-to-street urban renewal.

Slums cannot be tossed in a washing machine filled with federal funds and be brought out sparkling clean. The problem is not that simple.

There is talk of spending billions to clean up the slums and make them as livable and attractive as any other part of a community—immediately.

The theory disregards the fact people live in slums because they can't afford to live anyplace else. If the homes are rehabilitated with federal funds and volunteer help, how is the resident going to maintain it? If there was no money to fix it up before, how is the owner going to keep it painted?

If new housing is constructed, how can an unemployed man move his family into it?

In order to maintain a quality of living acceptable to a civilized society, a man must have a steady job.

The upshot of increased pressure on management for more money, more benefits and more vacation has been a headlong plunge into automation and continuing stress on elimination of the working man.

Jobs are scarce, especially for the unskilled worker. Thus, he lives in a slum neighborhood and his children are raised in an atmosphere that breeds hopelessness and insures tomorrow's slums.

We support action to correct intolerable living conditions, but we strongly urge that attention be given underlying causes along with pouring money into facades that hide the truth.

Dodge 'Em Game

Ho hum, another truck has bashed in a pump at the service station at the bottom of the Route 30 hill in Chester.

Only a few years ago, the citizenry of the community were stirred to seek some measure of protection against overturning and runaway trucks at the "no man's land" at 8th and Carolina. This occurred after a car was struck and some injured.

The concern was greater then, too, because children were then attending the nearby Washington School, now closed.

The local indignation did garner a blinker warning sign on the hill, but the Dodge 'Em ride in Rock Springs Park was matched out on Carolina Ave. again and again.

So, it's ho hum, nothing will be done; just keep out of the way, folks, or you'll get a truck stuck in your pocket.

Playing The Mandate Game

A popular post-election pastime in the United States is looking for a "mandate" after the votes are counted.

Anyone can play the game. The rules are flexible and can be made to fit any vote pattern.

In 1964, President Johnson's overwhelming victory was hailed as a "mandate from the People."

In 1960 when President Kennedy won only a paper-thin popular vote, former President Harry Truman saw the election as a mandate.

Now the game has become international. The players are peering at South Vietnam.

Neither novices nor political pros have to look hard to find a mandate in the South Vietnam election: Peace is the primary concern of almost two thirds of those voting.

Nguyen Van Thieu's victory amounted to only about one out of every three votes cast going in his favor. The other two votes were divided among the 10 non-military slates.

Surprising everyone was runner-up Truong Dinh Dzu, a Saigon lawyer and top peace candidate. He was expected to finish somewhere around fifth place but picked up 500,000 votes to only 1.6 million for the winning ticket.

The election has a clear peace flavor, even though the five million-plus who voted represented about a third of the country's total ppoulation.

So we have a negative mandate (expressed by votes to the losers) delivered by less than a third of the South Vietnamese people to a ruling body supported by less than a majority of voters and mistrusted and despised by the North Vietnamese.

Under these conditions, Nguyen Van Thieu and Nguyen Cao Ky are to bring peace to their battered country.

President-elect Thieu made a campaign pledge to offer a bombing pause as a means of opening peace negotiations. He will make good his promise, but there is no reason to believe he will be any more successful than U.S. diplomats have been.

The inescapable fact is that mandate or no mandate peace will come to Vietnam when North Vietnam says so, not before.

A Law Of Survival

A Hollywood cleric, Rev. Ross Greek of West Hollywood Presbyterian Church, has said in an interview that boys and girls are running away from home in record numbers.

He calls it a "national crisis."

Perhaps it is. But is it necessarily more of a crisis than it was when no one believed running away was a crisis?

We didn't have the Haight-Asbury district to run to. We didn't have pills and hippies. But, starting at an early age, we did have the urge to take off. Eventually, we left home and stayed.

That wasn't like running away prematurely, but it started with the same motive. We wanted to make a break with the parental generation. Sometimes the parental generation urged us to leave the nest and try our wings.

The Rev. Mr. Greek says he is worried because more girls are running away than used to run away. We wonder how he knows that. We wonder, in fact, how he and others who say things never were so bad before know all the things they say they know.

We suspect they jump to conclusions, like the people who jump to the conclusion that juvenile delinquency is worse than it used to be because there are more juvenile delinquents than there used to be.

There also are more doctors, scholars, ministers, martyrs, prominent citizens and saints than there used to be. The reason: There are more people.

Until it has been proved otherwise, we shall believe today's runaways like yesterday's will turn out to be tomorrow's solid citizens who will forget when their own kids wander off the reservation that they once did the same thing and survived.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

NEW YORK CITY

Dear Truman Twill:

Did you ever notice how quickly you can tell when somebody likes his job and is good at it?

Makes no difference whether the job is that of floor sweeper or bank president. The work is done efficiently, with a smile and a sense of pride.

The sense of pride is not always obvious But it can be observed by the way the most routine and tiresome chore is performed.

An extra touch here, and added methodical flourish there, on even a distasteful task will reveal the person's character.

Such individuals are nice to have around any time but especially nice to have around in times of emergency because they know their jobs so well and are unflappable.

While lesser souls are fumbling for solutions and waiting to see which way the wind is blowing, the man who knows already has a good start on eliminating whatever is causing the emergency.

Such a man was Fred Hawkins, licensed practical nurse, who died of a heart attack at the untimely age of 40.

When a young fellow just out of high school, he had served as a medic in World War II. A few years after his discharge, he became a nurse.

"Actually I am doing just about the same thing now that I did during the war," he once said.

But of course he wasn't, because through the years he had profited from experience and had become so highly skilled that in many instances his services were invaluable.

Nobody may ever know all the tricks of his trade, But Fred knew just about as much as was possible to know about his.

Both in general hospital care and the rehabilitation of handicapped patients, which was his specialty, he frequently and unobtrusively could offer suggestions helpful to everyone — patient, registered nurses and doctors.

His knowledge and capable hands won him bountiful respect, esteem and affection.

Like many others blessed with motivation, perseverance and ability, he had managed to move his family from the core city to a suburb. He reveled in the pleasure of having a lawn and flowers.

Often on a casual visit to another patient's room, he would automatically take a drinking pitcher and water the flower pots on the window sill.

The meek, the tough and the mighty recognized his superiority and showed it in their high regard for him.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

A variety of languages are "officially" spoken in Switzerland. About 72 per cent of the people employ the German language, 20 per cent speak French, 6 per cent Italian and the remainder speak Romansch and other languages and dialects.

John Howard Payne, author of "Home, Sweet Home," became an actor when he was 16, but his theatrical enterprise failed and he was put in prison for debt.

The dove, legendary harbinger of peace, will ruthlessly peck to death a helpless opponent but a wolf, in battle, will not slay another wolf that offers its neck in a gesture of submission.

Five-Year Marriage

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

Since all our sacred institutions are under attack these days, it comes as no surprise to read that our concept of marriage has been challenged by a member of the American Psychological Association.

Art Buchwald

In a paper presented during a conference here, Mrs. Virginia Satir, a psychological social worker from Big Sur, Calif., attacked the marriage vows people in the Western Christian world are forced to take. She said marriage is the only human contract in our society that has no time length, no opportunity for review and no socially acceptable means of termination.

To expect people to make an unerring choice of a life partner is to ask them to be wiser than they can possibly be, she added.

Mrs. Satir's solution is a simple one. She advocates that marriage should be a five-year renewable contract.

If the marriage goes well for the first five years, the couple could renew the contract for future five year-periods. If it fails, it would automatically be dissolved without undue stress, expense, litigation or social stigma.

WHEN I READ the article, I naturally became very indignant and said to my wife, "Can you imagine? Some woman psychologist is advocating that marriage be based on a five-year contract, which is renewable only if both parties agree."

"Why do you bring it up?" my wife asked.

"Why?" I said, as I threw down the newspaper in disgust. "Because to me marriage is a sacred institution and once you're married you shouldn't have to decide every five years whether you want to continue it or not. Decisions like that could drive a man crazy."

"Then what you're saying," my wife said quietly, "is that you're not sure you'd be willing to renew the contract whenever a five-year period was up."

"That's not what I'm saying at all. In our case it would probably be automatic."

"Probably?"

"You're trying to put me in a corner," I protested. "Of course it would be automatic, though if I am to be honest I'd have to admit that as the five-year deadline came near I might give it more thought than I would under the present set of rules."

"Why is that?" she asked with a grim smile on her lips.

"IT'S JUST natural. If people have options every five years they would think about them. Marriage is a very serious business and I'm sure you would think much less of me if I just signed a contract every five years without reading the small print. I'm not saying I wouldn't sign after I read it, but I might want to add a few clauses here and there that I hadn't thought of when we first got married."

"Such as what?" she said, as she straightened out the lamp shade next to our bed.

"Well, I might put some ceilings on the spending of money, add a few paragraphs about your mother and maybe include a freedom clause for myself. Things like that. But don't worry, there would be nothing in the contract that would stop you from signing it."

"Suppose I wanted to add a few clauses of my own?" she asked.

"What?" I said. "And wreck a perfect marriage?"

"It hardly seems worth discussing," she said, "particularly since it's doubtful that your psychologist friend's ideas are going to be adopted in the near future."

"I should hope not," I replied. "It would be a travesty in human relationships if, every five years, people had to decide whether they wanted to live together. You'd never be sure, after you signed, that you hadn't made a terrible mistake."

I didn't see the lamp coming until it was

The Fantasy Of Power

By Bruce Biossat

An uninvited speaker, militant Negro leader Marion Barry of Washington, no doubt thought he was talking to the "power structure" of the nation's troubled cities when he chided 800 participants in the recently convoked Urban Coalition for not enlisting the poor in their effort to solve urban racial problems.

In a very rough sense this was true. A high proportion of the participants, white and Negro alike, are involved in the decision-making process at the national and local levels. They include mayors and other political figures, top business executives, labor leaders, churchmen and civil rights leaders.

But they cannot properly be addressed as one, as if they were members of power elites who, in their various communities, control and direct everything of consequence that happens.

It might easily be that, under the coalition's banner, the hall could have been filled with another 800 who, with a few key exceptions, might be found to wield as much weight and influence as those who assembled here.

The underlying point: In a day when authority is under attack by the young, by a broader spectrum of antiwar critics and by frustrated Negroes and their allies, the quite unreal notion of a monolithic power structure in the nation and in city after city has taken altogether too deep a hold.

At its simplistic worst, the power structure is pictured as evil, corrupt, conspiratorial, unfeeling. It is believed to be governed, in the total sense, by economic leaders. Politicians and all other seeming leaders in society are deemed to be mere puppets.

Yet this notion does not stand the test of objective experience. Sociologist Arnold Rose of the University of Minnesota now rises to assert persuasively, in a new book called "The Power Structure," that power in this country is pluralistic, not monolithic, that the multiple power structures in a given community only partly overlap and are usually sharply limited in the extent of their influence.

Rose notes that many community power studies have unearthed the pluralistic distribution of power, and cites one particularly which discovered no less than 19 leadership groups active in 39 issues studied.

As for the idea of economic dominance, advanced most notably by C. Wright Mills in his book, "The Power Elite," Rose answers in his own work:

"We have adduced much evidence . . . that the top business elite are far from having an all-powerful position; that power is so complicated in the United States that the top businessmen scarcely understand it, much less control it, and that since 1933 the power position of businessmen had been declining rather than growing."

As far as general legislation is concerned, adds Rose, businessmen in the past three decades suffered "an almost unbroken series of defeats, although they have suceeded in delaying the passage of certain bills for years."

At the local level, he cites an inquiry by another scholar, Edward Banfield, into how half a dozen decisions in controversial issues were actually taken in Chicago. Says Banfield:

". . . In these cases the richest men of Chicago are conspicuous by their absence. Lesser business figures appear, but they do not act concertedly; there are some of them on each side of every issue."

Rose concludes that in American political processes the political elite, the elected and appointed leaders, are largely ascendant over and not subordinate to the economic elite. He considers the two major parties the most broadly powerful agencies in society, but even here suggests that severe limits apply. The parties are segmented, not monolithic.

Those among the militant Negroes, the rebellious young and the fervent antiwar groups who imagine they can quickly usher in an age of betterment and peace and social perfection by bearing down upon a conspiratorial few in the "power structure" may be doomed, then, to crushing disappointment.

The uses of power in this country are widely spread and constantly shifting. It is almost the whole of American society that must be moved if great ends are to be achieved. No mere handful of devils can serve as a proper target in a time of crisis. To win by exercising devils is a dream for children.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Splinters

Communists within the United States are active in seeking to influence, if not direct, many phases of the anti-Vietnam-war movement, as well as in trying to stir up racial friction.

A federal agency has circulated a memorandum to other agencies in the government and to members of Congress documenting the relationship of the Communists to a convention held in Chicago at which plans were made to organize a third political party.

This correspondent has obtained a copy of the memorandum. It follows in full text:

"Communists from various parts of the country have been converging on Chicago in recent days. The attraction is the five-day national convention of the National Conference for New Politics, a liberal anti-war group based in New York City. The convention, which is being held in the Palmer House, started on Aug. 31.

"Some of the delegates to the convention want to nominate civil-rights leader Martin Luther King for president of the United States and pediatrician Dr. Benjamin Spock as his 1968 running mate. Dr. Spock has been one of the most active participants in anti-Vietnam-war demonstrations.

"The Communist party, U.S.A., would welcome a third political party with a national ticket headed by King and Spock. In fact, at the annual May Day rally, held in New York City last spring, the Communist chairman of the rally stated that 'peace forces' must mobilize to put President Johnson out of office in 1968. He then suggested that King and Spock were better suited than President Johnson for the White House.

"The Communists, however, do not want this convention to nominate candidates for a presidential ticket. If the efforts of the Communists to influence policy of the National Conference for New Politics are successful—and qualified observers believe that they will be—this convention will merely agree to the formation of a third-party ticket. Meanwhile, the selection of candidates will be postponed until a nominating convention is held sometime in the spring of 1968.

"These qualified observers advise that the Communists want to combine all the anti-Vietnam-war protesters and all the civil-rights forces and merge them into the National Conference for New Politics in order to enlarge the criticism against United States presence in South Vietnam. This tactic, of course, fits into the over-all strategy of the Communist party, U.S.A., as well as that of the rest of the international Communist movement to get the United States to withdraw from Vietnam so the Communists can gain control of all of Vietnam. Leaders of the Communist party believe, however, that they might lose the support of militant black nationalist leaders for the National Conference for New Politics if a presidential ticket is selected prematurely.

"The Communists also have a strong representation from their youth group, the W. E. B. Dubois Clubs of America, at the Chicago convention. In a recent memorandum sent to all local Dubois clubs, the national office of the Dubois clubs advised that the convention had been made a nationwide priority for the Dubois clubs.

"Also present at this convention at the Palmer House are numerous members of the Trotskyite Socialist Workers party. Since the Socialist Workers party always has its own ticket for president and vice president of the United States, it is not trying to influence the decisions made at the convention of the National Conference for New Politics. However, the Socialist Workers party realizes that the convention has attracted radical youths frm around the country. The Socialist Workers party is present in force at the convention in an effort to bring some of these young people into its ranks.

"Whatever were the intentions of the original founders of the National Conference for New Politics, it is now obvious that the Communists and other subversive groups have moved in on them lock, stock, and barrel. Veteran observers of the political scene already see a parallel between the National Conference for New Politics and the Progressive party, which was quickly taken over by the Communists when it was formed two decades ago."

Dodge 'Em Game

Ho hum, another truck has bashed in a pump at the service station at the bottom of the Route 30 hill in Chester.

Only a few years ago, the citizenry of the community were stirred to seek some measure of protection against overturning and runaway trucks at the "no man's land" at 8th and Carolina. This occurred after a car was struck and some injured.

The concern was greater then, too, because children were then attending the nearby Washington School, now closed.

The local indignation did garner a blinker warning sign on the hill, but the Dodge 'Em ride in Rock Springs Park was matched out on Carolina Ave. again and again.

So, it's ho hum, nothing will be done; just keep out of the way, folks, or you'll get a truck stuck in your pocket.

Playing The Mandate Game

A popular post-election pastime in the United States is looking for a "mandate" after the votes are counted.

Anyone can play the game. The rules are flexible and can be made to fit any vote pattern.

In 1964, President Johnson's overwhelming victory was hailed as a "mandate from the People."

In 1960 when President Kennedy won only a paper-thin popular vote, former President Harry Truman saw the election as a mandate.

Now the game has become international. The players are peering at South Vietnam.

Neither novices nor political pros have to look hard to find a mandate in the South Vietnam election: Peace is the primary concern of almost two thirds of those voting.

Nguyen Van Thieu's victory amounted to only about one out of every three votes cast going in his favor. The other two votes were divided among the 10 non-military slates.

Surprising everyone was runner-up Truong Dinh Dzu, a Saigon lawyer and top peace candidate. He was expected to finish somewhere around fifth place but picked up 800,000 votes to only 1.6 million for the winning ticket.

The election has a clear peace flavor, even though the five million-plus who voted represented about a third of the country's total ppoulation.

So we have a negative mandate (expressed by votes to the losers) delivered by less than a third of the South Vietnamese people to a ruling body supported by less than a majority of voters and mistrusted and despised by the North Vietnamese.

Under these conditions, Nguyen Van Thieu and Nguyen Cao Ky are to bring peace to their battered country.

President-elect Thieu made a campaign pledge to offer a bombing pause as a means of opening peace negotiations. He will make good his promise, but there is no reason to believe he will be any more successful than U.S. diplomats have been.

The inescapable fact is that mandate or no mandate peace will come to Vietnam when North Vietnam says so, not before.

A Law Of Survival

A Hollywood cleric, Rev. Ross Greek of West Hollywood Presbyterian Church, has said in an interview that boys and girls are running away from home in record numbers.

He calls it a "national crisis."

Perhaps it is. But is it necessarily more of a crisis than it was when no one believed running away was a crisis?

We didn't have the Haight-Asbury district to run to. We didn't have pills and hippies. But, starting at an early age, we did have the urge to take off. Eventually, we left home and stayed.

That wasn't like running away prematurely, but it started with the same motive. We wanted to make a break with the parental generation. Sometimes the parental generation urged us to leave the nest and try our wings.

The Rev. Mr. Greek says he is worried because more girls are running away than used to run away. We wonder how he knows that. We wonder, in fact, how he and others who say things never were so bad before know all the things they say they know.

We suspect they jump to conclusions, like the people who jump to the conclusion that juvenile delinquency is worse than it used to be because there are more juvenile delinquents than there used to be.

There also are more doctors, scholars, ministers, martyrs, prominent citizens and saints than there used to be. The reason: There are more people.

Until it has been proved otherwise, we shall believe today's runaways like yesterday's will turn out to be tomorrow's solid citizens who will forget when their own kids wander off the reservation that they once did the same thing and survived.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

NEW YORK CITY

Dear Truman Twill:

Did you ever notice how quickly you can tell when somebody likes his job and is good at it?

Makes no difference whether the job is that of floor sweeper or bank president. The work is done efficiently, with a smile and a sense of pride.

The sense of pride is not always obvious But it can be observed by the way the most routine and tiresome chore is performed.

An extra touch here, and added methodical flourish there, on even a distasteful task will reveal the person's character.

Such individuals are nice to have around any time but especially nice to have around in times of emergency because they know their jobs so well and are unflappable.

While lesser souls are fumbling for solutions and waiting to see which way the wind is blowing, the man who knows already has a good start on eliminating whatever is causing the emergency.

Such a man was Fred Hawkins, licensed practical nurse, who died of a heart attack at the untimely age of 40.

When a young fellow just out of high school, he had served as a medic in World War II. A few years after his discharge, he became a nurse.

"Actually I am doing just about the same thing now that I did during the war," he once said.

But of course he wasn't, because through the years he had profited from experience and had become so highly skilled that in many instances his services were invaluable.

Nobody may ever know all the tricks of his trade, But Fred knew just about as much as was possible to know about his.

Both in general hospital care and the rehabilitation of handicapped patients, which was his specialty, he frequently and unobtrusively could offer suggestions helpful to everyone — patient, registered nurses and doctors.

His knowledge and capable hands won him bountiful respect, esteem and affection.

Like many others blessed with motivation, perseverance and ability, he had managed to move his family from the core city to a suburb. He reveled in the pleasure of having a lawn and flowers.

Often on a casual visit to another patient's room, he would automatically take a drinking pitcher and water the flower pots on the window sill.

The meek, the tough and the mighty recognized his superiority and showed it in their high regard for him.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

A variety of languages are "officially" spoken in Switzerland. About 72 per cent of the people employ the German language, 20 per cent speak French, 6 per cent Italian and the remainder speak Romansch and other languages and dialects.

John Howard Payne, author of "Home, Sweet Home," became an actor when he was 16, but his theatrical enterprise failed and he was put in prison for debt.

Five-Year Marriage

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

Since all our sacred institutions are under attack these days, it comes as no surprise to read that our concept of marriage has been challenged by a member of the American Psychological Association.

Art Buchwald

In a paper presented during a conference here, Mrs. Virginia Satir, a psychological social worker from Big Sur, Calif., attacked the marriage vows people in the Western Christian world are forced to take. She said marriage is the only human contract in our society that has no time length, no opportunity for review and no socially acceptable means of termination.

To expect people to make an unerring choice of a life partner is to ask them to be wiser than they can possibly be, she added.

Mrs. Satir's solution is a simple one. She advocates that marriage should be a five-year renewable contract.

If the marriage goes well for the first five years, the couple could renew the contract for future five year-periods. If it fails, it would automatically be dissolved without undue stress, expense, litigation or social stigma.

WHEN I READ the article, I naturally became very indignant and said to my wife, "Can you imagine? Some woman psychologist is advocating that marriage be based on a five-year contract, which is renewable only if both parties agree."

"Why do you bring it up?" my wife asked.

"Why?" I said, as I threw down the newspaper in disgust. "Because to me marriage is a sacred institution and once you're married you shouldn't have to decide every five years whether you want to continue it or not. Decisions like that could drive a man crazy."

"Then what you're saying," my wife said quietly, "is that you're not sure you'd be willing to renew the contract whenever a five-year period was up."

"That's not what I'm saying at all. In our case it would probably be automatic."

"Probably?"

"You're trying to put me in a corner," I protested. "Of course it would be automatic, though if I am to be honest I'd have to admit that as the five-year deadline came near I might give it more thought than I would under the present set of rules."

"Why is that?" she asked with a grim smile on her lips.

"IT'S JUST natural. If people have options every five years they would think about them. Marriage is a very serious business and I'm sure you would think much less of me if I just signed a contract every five years without reading the small print. I'm not saying I wouldn't sign after I read it, but I might want to add a few clauses here and there that I hadn't thought of when we first got married."

"Such as what?" she said, as she straightened out the lamp shade next to our bed.

"Well, I might put some ceilings on the spending of money, add a few paragraphs about your mother and maybe include a freedom clause for myself. Things like that. But don't worry, there would be nothing in the contract that would stop you from signing it."

"Suppose I wanted to add a few clauses of my own?" she asked.

"What?" I said. "And wreck a perfect marriage?"

"It hardly seems worth discussing," she said, "particularly since it's doubtful that your psychologist friend's ideas are going to be adopted in the near future."

"I should hope not," I replied. "It would be a travesty in human relationships if, every five years, people had to decide whether they wanted to live together. You'd never be sure, after you signed, that you hadn't made a terrible mistake."

I didn't see the lamp coming until it was

By Bruce Biossat

An uninvited speaker, militant Negro leader Marion Barry of Washington, no doubt thought he was talking to the "power structure" of the nation's troubled cities when he chided 800 participants in the recently convoked Urban Coalition for not enlisting the poor in their effort to solve urban racial problems.

In a very rough sense this was true. A high proportion of the participants, white and Negro alike, are involved in the decision-making process at the national and local levels. They include mayors and other political figures, top business executives, labor leaders, churchmen and civil rights leaders.

But they cannot properly be addressed as one, as if they were members of power elites who, in their various communities, control and direct everything of consequence that happens.

It might easily be that, under the coalition's banner, the hall could have been filled with another 800 who, with a few key exceptions, might be found to wield as much weight and influence as those who assembled here.

The underlying point: In a day when authority is under attack by the young, by a broader spectrum of antiwar critics and by frustrated Negroes and their allies, the quite unreal notion of a monolithic power structure in the nation and in city after city has taken altogether too deep a hold.

At its simplistic worst, the power structure is pictured as evil, corrupt, conspiratorial, unfeeling. It is believed to be governed, in the total sense, by economic leaders. Politicians and all other seeming leaders in society are deemed to be mere puppets.

Yet this notion does not stand the test of objective experience. Sociologist Arnold Rose of the University of Minnesota now rises to assert persuasively, in a new book called "The Power Structure," that power in this country is pluralistic, not monolithic, that the multiple power structures in a given community only partly overlap and are usually sharply limited in the extent of their influence.

Rose notes that many community power studies have unearthed the pluralistic distribution of power, and cites one particularly which discovered no less than 19 leadership groups active in 39 issues studied.

As for the idea of economic dominance, advanced most notably by C. Wright Mills in his book, "The Power Elite," Rose answers in his own work:

"We have adduced much evidence . . . that the top business elite are far from having an all-powerful position; that power is so complicated in the United States that the top businessmen scarcely understand it, much less control it, and that since 1933 the power position of businessmen had been declining rather than growing."

As far as general legislation is concerned, adds Rose, businessmen in the past three decades suffered "an almost unbroken series of defeats, although they have suceeded in delaying the passage of certain bills for years."

At the local level, he cites an inquiry by another scholar, Edward Banfield, into how half a dozen decisions in controversial issues were actually taken in Chicago. Says Banfield:

". . . In these cases the richest men of Chicago are conspicuous by their absence. Lesser business figures appear, but they do not act concertedly; there are some of them on each side of every issue."

Rose concludes that in American political processes the political elite, the elected and appointed leaders, are largely ascendant over and not subordinate to the economic elite. He considers the two major parties the most broadly powerful agencies in society, but even here suggests that severe limits apply. The parties are segmented, not monolithic.

Those among the militant Negroes, the rebellious young and the fervent antiwar groups who imagine they can quickly usher in an age of betterment and peace and social perfection by bearing down upon a conspiratorial few in the "power structure" may be doomed, then, to crushing disappointment.

The uses of power in this country are widely spread and constantly shifting. It is almost the whole of American society that must be moved if great ends are to be achieved. No mere handful of devils can serve as a proper target in a time of crisis. To win by exercising devils is a dream for children.

Communists within the United States are active in seeking to influence, if not direct, many phases of the anti-Vietnam-war movement, as well as in trying to stir up racial friction.

A federal agency has circulated a memorandum to other agencies in the government and to members of Congress documenting the relationship of the Communists to a convention held in Chicago at which plans were made to organize a third political party.

This correspondent has obtained a copy of the memorandum. It follows in full text:

"Communists from various parts of the country have been converging on Chicago in recent days. The attraction is the five-day national convention of the National Conference for New Politics, a liberal anti-war group based in New York City. The convention, which is being held in the Palmer House, started on Aug. 31.

"Some of the delegates to the convention want to nominate civil-rights leader Martin Luther King for president of the United States and pediatrician Dr. Benjamin Spock as his 1968 running mate. Dr. Spock has been one of the most active participants in anti-Vietnam-war demonstrations.

"The Communist party, U.S.A., would welcome a third political party with a national ticket headed by King and Spock. In fact, at the annual May Day rally, held in New York City last spring, the Communist chairman of the rally stated that 'peace forces' must mobilize to put President Johnson out of office in 1968. He then suggested that King and Spock were better suited than President Johnson for the White House.

"The Communists, however, do not want this convention to nominate candidates for a presidential ticket. If the efforts of the Communists to influence policy of the National Conference for New Politics are successful—and qualified observers believe that they will be—this convention will merely agree to the formation of a third-party ticket. Meanwhile, the selection of candidates will be postponed until a nominating convention is held sometime in the spring of 1968.

"These qualified observers advise that the Communists want to combine all the anti-Vietnam-war protesters and all the civil-rights forces and merge them into the National Conference for New Politics in order to enlarge the criticism against United States presence in South Vietnam. This tactic, of course, fits into the over-all strategy of the Communist party, U.S.A., as well as that of the rest of the international Communist movement to get the United States to withdraw from Vietnam so the Communists can gain control of all of Vietnam. Leaders of the Communist party believe, however, that they might lose the support of militant black nationalist leaders for the National Conference for New Politics if a presidential ticket is selected prematurely.

"The Communists also have a strong representation from their youth group, the W. E. B. Dubois Clubs of America, at the Chicago convention. In a recent memorandum sent to all local Dubois clubs, the national office of the Dubois clubs advised that the convention had been made a nationwide priority for the Dubois clubs.

"Also present at this convention at the Palmer House are numerous members of the Trotskyite Socialist Workers party. Since the Socialist Workers party always has its own ticket for president and vice president of the United States, it is not trying to influence the decisions made at the convention of the National Conference for New Politics. However, the Socialist Workers party realizes that the convention has attracted radical youths frm around the country. The Socialist Workers party is present in force at the convention in an effort to bring some of these young people into its ranks.

"Whatever were the intentions of the original founders of the National Conference for New Politics, it is now obvious that the Communists and other subversive groups have moved in on them lock, stock, and barrel. Veteran observers of the political scene already see a parallel between the National Conference for New Politics and the Progressive party, which was quickly taken over by the Communists when it was formed two decades ago."

Space Double Slated Today From Cape

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A biological research laboratory filled with millions of bugs and plants is set to rocket into orbit as the first part of a space doubleheader.

The cargo of "astrobugs" is to rocket skyward today in the Biosatellite 2 spacecraft between 3 and 3:30 p.m. EDT. Less than 13 hours later, at 3:39 a.m. Friday, Surveyor 5 is to blast off from another Cape Kennedy launching pad, aiming for a soft landing on the moon. Biosatellite 2 is to circle the earth for three days while its specimens grow, reproduce and eat to determine what happens to biological processes when subjected to weightlessness and radiation.

Aboard are such things as parasitic wasps, frog eggs, flour beetles, amoebae, vinegar gnats, wheat seedlings, pepper plants, bacteria and bread mold.

In all, there are more than 10 million things packed compactly in the spacecraft. When it returns to earth for recovery after 70 hours aloft, the passenger list may have swelled to more than 13 billion, primarily through the rapid reproduction of bacteria-cells, which may multiply through as many as 20 generations during the flight.

Some might develop strange mutations either in space or after they return to earth. Some of the frog eggs, for example, will be allowed to develop into tadpoles and then to full-grown frogs.

With the 13 experiments, biologists will be able to study the plants and animals, structure and growth of cells and tissues and basic chemistry of the individual cell.

Surveyor 5 will pack a camera, a magnet to pick up metallic material and miniature "chemistry lab" to analyze the lunar soil to determine what elements are there.

The spacecraft will attempt a difficult soft-landing in the Sea of Tranquillity near the Crater Moltke. This is considered a likely spot for landing American astronauts.

4-Way Crash Triggered As Truck Coasts

A pickup truck coasted backward down the Sophia St. grade late Wednesday afternoon after its brakes failed, damaging three parked autos, police reported.

Police said the coasting vehicle was driven by William Charles Lynn, 31, of Wellsville RD 1. It struck: A 1964 sedan owned by Hezzie Hashman of 809 Sophia St.; a 1962 station wagon owned by Clarence P. Williams of Richmond, Va., and a 1955 sedan owned by Robert Smith of Parkway Ave., LaCroft.

The series of collisions was timed at 5:58 p. m. Lynn told Patrolman Charles Coen his 1958 model truck was parked in the 800 block of Sophia St. As he started to pull away from the curb and back into Mars Alley to turn around, the brakes failed and the vehicle began coasting backward toward Minerva St., he said.

Lyn's truck first hit Hashman's car, then struck the Williams' station wagon, shoving it onto a sidewalk. The drifting truck finally came to a halt against the rear of Smith's sedan.

Coen said a check of the truck showed a brake line had broken.

The crash bent a bumper and the bed frame of the truck; dented the left front fender and bumper of Hashman's car; ruined the rear door of Williams' station wagon, also breaking a window and the tail lights and bending the bumper, and bent the left rear fender, trunk lid and bumper of Smith's car and broke the tail lights.

Another collision at 4:41 p.m. Wednesday on E. 6th St. near St. Clair Ave. caused minor damage to a 1966 four - door sedan driven by Charles A. Huddlestun, 44, of 826 Chester Ave., officers said. Huddlestun's car was involved in a mishap with a 1954 model two-door sedan driven by Eleanor Bashaw of 411 Jefferson St.

Huddlestun was driving in the left-hand lane of the one - way street and the woman was proceeding in the right - hand lane. Huddlestun said the woman pulled into his traffic lane.

More Threaten To Take Part In School Boycott

CLEVELAND (AP) — More welfare mothers have threatened to join a school boycott started Wednesday by a group of mothers at the Riverside public housing project on the West Side.

Mothers from all eight locals of the Welfare Rights Movement reportedly were prepared to join the boycott protesting low welfare allowances.

If all of them did so, some 5,000 youngsters would be involved, but it was not known how many would go along with the boycott.

Mrs. Carol Blane, cochairman of the Rights Movement's local at the Riverside project, said about 50 children stayed home from Puritas Elementary School Wednesday.

Mrs. Blane said her four children need shoes, underwear, socks, boots and coats.

"But there are more children here who are worse off than mine," she said. "If we could even get hand-me-down clothes to get the kids back to school we'll do it."

Chester Tackles Odor Complaint At Sewage Plant

The Chester Water and Sewage Board has taken action to eliminate odors emanating from the city's sewage plant following complaints from a delegation of residents during Wednesday night's meeting.

Mayor Burton Ward has contacted the Wheeling engineering firm which constructed the facility and requested speedy remedial steps.

The sewage plant is located adjacent to Chester City Park near the banks of the Ohio River.

THE MAYOR, upon questioning Leonard Cowey, sewage plant operator about the problem, said he was informed that Lewis Govey, water department superintendent, had instructed him (Cowey) to cut down on the use of a deodorizer because of the excessive cost.

The board members and Cowey said this is the first time they have had any serious complaints about the odor, although some residents claim there has been a problem since the plant was constructed.

Cowey said he stopped using the deodorizer about two months ago and several of the delegation remarked that the stench had become worse in the last six or eight weeks.

Cowey went on to explain he has experimented with several types of odor control, but with little success. He said one company's product which was set up for a week on a test basis "did absolutely nothing."

Cowey also noted that atmospheric conditions have a lot to do with the odor. He said a "low ceiling" will cause the smell to blanket the area surrounding the plant.

COWEY conceded the smell was bad.

Board Member Jack Allison declared residents should have stated their objections before $400,000 was spent for the facility after a member of the citizens' delegation questioned the wisdom of placing the plant in the center of the community.

Members also learned that while the water which is pumped from the final stages of the plant into the river is supposed to be pumped underwater the pipe falls short by some 30 feet, causing the water to run along the ground before entering the river.

Many said the objectionable odor appeared to be not from waste materials, but rather from the chemicals used to purify the substance.

MEMBERS of the board agreed to take immediate action to abate the smell, but said they were disturbed over the fact nothing had been said previously. "We've always bragged about having an odorless plant," they declared.

The former plant superintendent, Kenneth Williams, who was present, said the plant is only a primary one and is not designed to take care of all waste matter.

Upon a motion by Roy Cashdollar, the board voted to telephone the engineering firm of Cerrone and Vaughn at Wheeling and ask a representative to attend a meeting with a board committee in an effort to alleviate the problem.

Cowey told the board the odor noticed by residents cannot possibly be that of waste, but only of chemicals. "We use more chlorine than anyone in the state," he exclaimed.

Allison said the board was not aware at the time of construction, odors would be a problem. "We bought what was recommended," he added, noting the board did what the federal government and representatives of the engineering firm said would provide the best possible service.

One resident claimed, however, that an engineer who worked on the project told him the plant wouldn't be sufficient to meet requirements.

Members disagreed, stating the plant should be able to handle twice the population it now serves.

Members pointed out the federal government placed its stamp of approval on the plant before making the final payment of $76,000.

Davis Urges House Probe Of Milk Unit

Pennsylvania State Rep. Robert O. Davis of Beaver today announced he plans to ask for appointment of a committee from the House to investigate and make recommendations concerning the state Milk Control Commission.

"At this time," he said, "I do not understand the need for control of prices at the retail level.

"It has been my thinking that the agriculture and health departments can do a satisfactory job in this matter."

Davis is co-sponsor of House Bill 412 which would abolish the controversial milk commission and would repeal the act.

This bill is in the agricultural and dairy industry committee headed by William H. Ashton.

Newell Firemen 'Encouraged' By Corps Interest

Newell firemen report they are encouraged by interest shown in their proposed drum and bugle corps.

While only eight attended Wednesday night's meeting because of a misunderstanding on the date, Gene Lytton, chairman of the committee in charge, said many others have expressed a "keen interest" in the corps.

Lytton said another meeting will be held Sept. 24 at 4 p.m. at the Newell station and requests all interested to attend.

Three area band directors have expressed their desire to participate, he declared, and all said they know of others in the district who are interested.

A student from Oak Glen High School who attended last night's meeting told of at least 20 others who have indicated a desire to perform with the corps.

The department is seeking a minimum of 75 to get the project off the ground.

The committee consists of Lytton, Vernon Bettridge and Earl Flesch, fire chief.

Sheriff Reports August Activities

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan reports deputies served 371 papers during August and handled 5,169 radio transmissions and 1,468 telephone calls at the County Jail here.

His office at the Courthouse accepted 26 sets of fox feet and ears last month for the $3 bounty. Fees totaling $2,337 were collected.

The average daily food cost per prisoner was $1.19, the sheriff said. Cooks served 3,956 meals at a cost of $1,580. There were 266 visitors at the jail in August.

Jailers booked 80 prisoners in addition to the 36 confined as of Aug. 1. Seventy were released during the month and one was taken to a state institution. The sheriff took six mental patients to state hospitals.

Firemen Report Successful Fair

The Chester firemen's fair was termed a success by members Wednesday night when final reports were presented during a meeting at City Hall.

Kenneth Durbin was appointed to the department and placed on one year's probation.

The members voted to purchase nylon hose bed covers for both trucks.

The new concrete floor in the department's garage was finished Wednesday afternoon, with trucks to be placed on it in about two weeks.

The floor was constructed by firemen, with the city supplying money for the project.

Chester Tackles Odor Complaint At Sewage Plant

The Chester Water and Sewage Board has taken action to eliminate odors emanating from the city's sewage plant following complaints from a delegation of residents during Wednesday night's meeting.

Mayor Burton Ward has contacted the Wheeling engineering firm which constructed the facility and requested speedy remedial steps.

The sewage plant is located adjacent to Chester City Park near the banks of the Ohio River.

THE MAYOR, upon questioning Leonard Cowey, sewage plant operator about the problem, said he was informed that Lewis Govey, water department superintendent, had instructed him (Cowey) to cut down on the use of a deodorizer because of the excessive cost.

The board members and Cowey said this is the first time they have had any serious complaints about the odor, although some residents claim there has been a problem since the plant was constructed.

Cowey said he stopped using the deodorizer about two months ago and several of the delegation remarked that the stench had become worse in the last six or eight weeks.

Cowey went on to explain he has experimented with several types of odor control, but with little success. He said one company's product which was set up for a week on a test basis "did absolutely nothing."

Cowey also noted that atmospheric conditions have a lot to do with the odor. He said a "low ceiling" will cause the smell to blanket the area surrounding the plant.

COWEY conceded the smell was bad.

Board Member Jack Allison declared residents should have stated their objections before $400,000 was spent for the facility after a member of the citizens' delegation questioned the wisdom of placing the plant in the center of the community.

Members also learned that while the water which is pumped from the final stages of the plant into the river is supposed to be pumped underwater the pipe falls short by some 30 feet, causing the water to run along the ground before entering the river.

Many said the objectionable odor appeared to be not from waste materials, but rather from the chemicals used to purify the substance.

MEMBERS of the board agreed to take immediate action to abate the smell, but said they were disturbed over the fact nothing had been said previously. "We've always bragged about having an odorless plant," they declared.

board policy on the transfer of pupils to establish the most favorable ratio.

The Board of Education, meeting in special session Wednesday night, reaffirmed its original stand that the pupils should attend school at East Palestine. The vote was unanimous.

Laber said in past years students from both Negley and Unity have been bussed to East Palestine in order to produce a more reasonable class size.

The 16 youngsters were to have been distributed among various fourth grade rooms at East Palestine's two elementary schools.

Wednesday the parents suggested the board should transfer East Palestine pupils to Negley.

A number of meetings have been held between parents and the Board of Education in an attempt to solve the problem. However, the administration met with little success.

The parents contend the children will have to leave very early for classes and may have to wait outdoors as long as 45 minutes for buses.

Hearing

jected, and Judge Rowley upheld the objection.

Kunzelman later crossexamined the Mayor, asking if any witnesses were present, and the Mayor said there weren't.

Kunzelman also asked if he called Ratkovich a "quitter" and if he had Ratovichs' work record checked, and the Mayor answered no to both. Suffoletta objected to these questions, but Judge Rowley overruled him.

The Mayor said Ratkovich was upset about the Deramo fire because some police officers battled the blaze as firemen and received both police and fire pay, while other police officers were called on duty at the police station on straight police pay. Corak said there is a "continually complaining minority" in the 15-man police force.

Kunzelman asked the Mayor if he had had the records of the Fraternal Order of Police checked to determine who had supported Ratkovich in his appeal move.

THE MAYOR said a member of the police department brought in a story about the FOP action, so the records were checked and he obtained a report from Sgt. Vincent D'Itri.

Letters were introduced as evidence concerning a directive from the Mayor about chain of command.

The Mayor said the police were directed to file complaints or requests first with Police Chief Ed Stefl.

On the list of names of officers on the letter, some were underlined, including Ratkovich's.

Kunzelman asked the Mayor if he had removed any officers from eligibility for overtime pay, and Corak said a few were, including Ratkovich and Patrolman Mike Borato, and some for Sgt. George Tepovich.

Ratkovich took the stand later, and related his version of the conversation Jan. 25.

He said he told the Mayor when he refused to talk to him, "That's the trouble, some people can talk to you and others can't."

He said the Mayor told him, "If you aren't satisfied with the way things are, why don't you quit?"

city of Chester 15.7 cents per 1,000 gallons.

Schladen thanked the board for its cooperation in getting the service started to the nearly 200 families in the Lawrenceville area.

Schladen conceded there are still a few problems, none major, which must be worked out. He said a few leaks have been found, but are being corrected.

Service actually started Sept. 1, he declared, to some major buildings.

He said 35,000 gallons are necessary to fill the district's lines.

Schladen said 200,000 gallons of water were used to sterilize the standpipe and lines which will serve residents.

He said the trustees plan to pay the city of Chester about $30 for the 200,000 gallons used in the sterilization process based approximately on the rate set by Chester.

Work on the project began in May after several years of study by the trustees.

Mayor Burton Ward declared it will take awhile, "but residents will soon find water service is the most inexpensive service available."

Board member Roy Cashdollar commended Schladen and the members of the board of trustees for seeing the project to its completion.

Construction costs have been set at $160,000 to provide service to nearly 170 residents.

Ground was broken April 25, with 30 dignitaries, including six from foreign countries, on hand.

The public service district was organized five years ago. Miss Callie Tsapis is its legal adviser.

board policy on the transfer of pupils to establish the most favorable ratio.

The Board of Education, meeting in special session Wednesday night, reaffirmed its original stand that the pupils should attend school at East Palestine. The vote was unanimous.

Laber said in past years students from both Negley and Unity have been bussed to East Palestine in order to produce a more reasonable class size.

The 16 youngsters were to have been distributed among various fourth grade rooms at East Palestine's two elementary schools.

Wednesday the parents suggested the board should transfer East Palestine pupils to Negley.

A number of meetings have been held between parents and the Board of Education in an attempt to solve the problem. However, the administration met with little success.

The parents contend the children will have to leave very early for classes and may have to wait outdoors as long as 45 minutes for buses.

Hearing

jected, and Judge Rowley upheld the objection.

Kunzelman later crossexamined the Mayor, asking if any witnesses were present, and the Mayor said there weren't.

Kunzelman also asked if he called Ratkovich a "quitter" and if he had Ratovichs' work record checked, and the Mayor answered no to both. Suffoletta objected to these questions, but Judge Rowley overruled him.

The Mayor said Ratkovich was upset about the Deramo fire because some police officers battled the blaze as firemen and received both police and fire pay, while other police officers were called on duty at the police station on straight police pay. Corak said there is a "continually complaining minority" in the 15-man police force.

Kunzelman asked the Mayor if he had had the records of the Fraternal Order of Police checked to determine who had supported Ratkovich in his appeal move.

THE MAYOR said a member of the police department brought in a story about the FOP action, so the records were checked and he obtained a report from Sgt. Vincent D'Itri.

Letters were introduced as evidence concerning a directive from the Mayor about chain of command.

The Mayor said the police were directed to file complaints or requests first with Police Chief Ed Stefl.

On the list of names of officers on the letter, some were underlined, including Ratkovich's.

Kunzelman asked the Mayor if he had removed any officers from eligibility for overtime pay, and Corak said a few were, including Ratkovich and Patrolman Mike Borato, and some for Sgt. George Tepovich.

Ratkovich took the stand later, and related his version of the conversation Jan. 25.

He said he told the Mayor when he refused to talk to him, "That's the trouble, some people can talk to you and others can't."

He said the Mayor told him, "If you aren't satisfied with the way things are, why don't you quit?"

city of Chester 15.7 cents per 1,000 gallons.

Schladen thanked the board for its cooperation in getting the service started to the nearly 200 families in the Lawrenceville area.

Schladen conceded there are still a few problems, none major, which must be worked out. He said a few leaks have been found, but are being corrected.

Service actually started Sept. 1, he declared, to some major buildings.

He said 35,000 gallons are necessary to fill the district's lines.

Schladen said 200,000 gallons of water were used to sterilize the standpipe and lines which will serve residents.

He said the trustees plan to pay the city of Chester about $30 for the 200,000 gallons used in the sterilization process based approximately on the rate set by Chester.

Work on the project began in May after several years of study by the trustees.

Mayor Burton Ward declared it will take awhile, "but residents will soon find water service is the most inexpensive service available."

Board member Roy Cashdollar commended Schladen and the members of the board of trustees for seeing the project to its completion.

Construction costs have been set at $160,000 to provide service to nearly 170 residents.

Ground was broken April 25, with 30 dignitaries, including six from foreign countries, on hand.

The public service district was organized five years ago. Miss Callie Tsapis is its legal adviser.

County's Grand Jury Tackles More Cases

LISBON — The Columbiana County grand jury reconvened this morning to examine 32 witnesses in 13 cases.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis said the jury, sworn in Wednesday, worked until 5 p.m. yesterday to complete the nine cases on the day's assignment.

The panel of nine women and six men will be in session Friday and Monday before reporting to Judge Joel H. Sharp of Common Pleas Court. He will preside for criminal trials this term of court.

Pope's Temperature Normal, Rest Needed

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican announced today that Pope Paul's temperature has returned to normal again but said his period of rest will be extended.

The pontiff, who will be 70 on Sept. 26, returned to the Vatican Wednesday night after a sudden rise in his temperature prompt- ed him to leave his summer res- idence at Castel Gandolfo, 15 miles south of Rome in the Al- ban Hills. He had contracted a cold, stomach cramps and fever Monday toward the end of his summer sojourn, but earlier Wednesday his doctors said he had recovered.

Southern Methodist started the football season with an 83-man squad.

LYNN SMITH
Planning For Marriage.

Engagement Set By Lynn Smith, Blaine McIntosh

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Lynn Smith, daughter of Mrs. Na- omi Smith of 1703 Chester Ave., Wellsville, and the late Ralph W. Smith, to Blaine McIntosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mc- Intosh of Route 39, Wellsville.

She was graduated from Wellsville High School in 1965 and is presently employed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

McIntosh, who was graduated from the high school in 1963, is employed at the Midland Divis- ion of the Crucible Steel Co. He recently returned from Vietnam and received his discharge from the Army Sept. 2.

Linda Louise Gallo Weds In Ceremony At Leetonia

St. Patrick's Catholic Church of Leetonia was the setting for the marriage Sept. 2 of Miss Linda Louise Gallo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Gallo of Leetonia, and Ronald A. Dun- lap, son of Mr. and Mrs. War- ren Dunlap of Salineville.

A nuptial mass was perform- ed by the Rev. Thomas Beldue before a candlelit altar accent- ed with twin vases of white mums. Miss Amy Paradise was organist.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a sleeve- less, slipper - length creation of silk linen, styled with an Empire bodice. A full-length coat of Ven- ice lace openwork with brief sleeves and a court train accent- ed the bride's attire.

A lace and jeweled encircl- ing headpiece secured a veil of illusion.

The bridal bouquet was form- ed of white orchids, stephanotis and carnations.

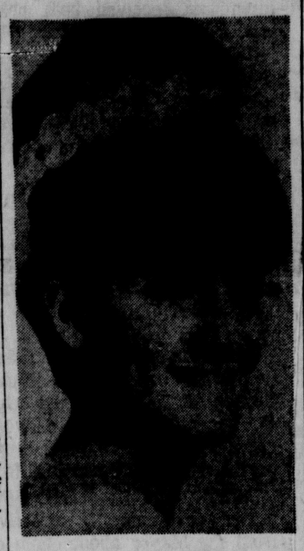
Miss Diane Vidumansky, maid of honor, wore a slipper - length gown of chartreuse chiffon, fash- ioned with pleated sleeves and an Empire waistline defined with a blue satin band. The bodice had a scooped neckline. She wore a Dior bow headpiece of matching material and car- ried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Willa Collier was a bridesmaid in a gown identical to that worn by the maid of honor. She also carried white carnations.

Miss Denise Mercuri, niece of the bride, was flower girl in a light blue frock, styled iden- tical to that of the attendants. She carried a basket of mixed summer flowers.

Kenneth Dunlap was best man. Ushers were Richard Dun- lap and Ivan Dye, relatives of the bridegroom. Charles Merd- ich, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Mrs. Gallo wore an ensemble of aqua silk linen and lace with aqua accessories. The mother of the bridegroom chose a bar- ley colored three - piece knit suit with brown accessories.



MRS. RONALD DUNLAP
Residing In Alliance.

Both wore corsages of white roses.

Miss Joan Lynn Gallo of Can- ton, cousin of the bride, regis- tered nearly 250 guests at the catered reception held in the church social room.

THE BRIDE'S table and ad- joining tables were skirted with white satin. A tiered cake dec- orated with light blue roses centered the bride's table. Blue tapers accented the other tables.

For a honeymoon to Niagara Falls, the bride chose a black and white ensemble with white accessories. She wore her bridal orchid.

She was graduated from Lee- tonia High School and attended the Penn-Ohio Junior College. She is employed in the IBM de- partment of the Armour Co. at Alliance.

Her husband was graduated from Salineville High School and attended Ohio State Uni- versity. He is a chemist for the Alliance Water Department.

The couple will reside at 1307 Parkway Blvd., Alliance.

Democratic Dinner Set At Salem Nov. 4

The Columbiana County Dem- ocratic organization will hold its annual Jefferson - Jackson Day dinner Nov. 4 at Salem, it was decided Wednesday night dur- ing a countywide meeting of city chairmen, club presidents and mayoralty candidates at the headquarters in Lisbon.

The site of the dinner, tradi- tionally the party's largest af- fair of the year, will be chosen later.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county chairman, said the party was offered its customary site at Beaver Local High School for Oct. 14, but decided not to ac- cept because a Belmont County Democratic dinner will be held the same night. It was then the party began seeking another site and decided upon Salem.

Plans were made for an all- out campaign to enroll new members in both men's and women's Democratic clubs. Plans also were laid for a drive to raise funds for the November election campaign.

The party officials looked over fall campaign plans city by city and decided that "prospects are bright throughout the county."

Pope's Temperature Normal, Rest Needed

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican announced today that Pope Paul's temperature has returned to normal again but said his period of rest will be extended.

The pontiff, who will be 70 on Sept. 26, returned to the Vatican Wednesday night after a sudden rise in his temperature prompted him to leave his summer residence at Castel Gandolfo, 15 miles south of Rome in the Alban Hills. He had contracted a cold, stomach cramps and fever Monday toward the end of his summer sojourn, but earlier Wednesday his doctors said he had recovered.

Southern Methodist started the football season with an 83-man squad.

LYNN SMITH
Planning For Marriage.

Engagement Set By Lynn Smith, Blaine McIntosh

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Lynn Smith, daughter of Mrs. Naomi Smith of 1703 Chester Ave., Wellsville, and the late Ralph W. Smith, to Blaine McIntosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McIntosh of Route 39, Wellsville.

She was graduated from Wellsville High School in 1965 and is presently employed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

McIntosh, who was graduated from the high school in 1963, is employed at the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co. He recently returned from Vietnam and received his discharge from the Army Sept. 2.

Linda Louise Gallo Weds In Ceremony At Leetonia

St. Patrick's Catholic Church of Leetonia was the setting for the marriage Sept. 2 of Miss Linda Louise Gallo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Gallo of Leetonia, and Ronald A. Dunlap, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Dunlap of Salineville.

A nuptial mass was performed by the Rev. Thomas Beldue before a candlelit altar accented with twin vases of white mums. Miss Amy Paradise was organist.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a sleeveless, slipper - length creation of silk linen, styled with an Empire bodice. A full-length coat of Venice lace openwork with brief sleeves and a court train accented the bride's attire.

A lace and jeweled encircling headpiece secured a veil of illusion.

The bridal bouquet was formed of white orchids, stephanotis and carnations.

Miss Diane Vidumansky, maid of honor, wore a slipper - length gown of chartreuse chiffon, fashioned with pleated sleeves and an Empire waistline defined with a blue satin band. The bodice had a scooped neckline. She wore a Dior bow headpiece of matching material and carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Willa Collier was a bridesmaid in a gown identical to that worn by the maid of honor. She also carried white carnations.

Miss Denise Mercuri, niece of the bride, was flower girl in a light blue frock, styled identical to that of the attendants. She carried a basket of mixed summer flowers.

Kenneth Dunlap was best man. Ushers were Richard Dunlap and Ivan Dye, relatives of the bridegroom. Charles Merdich, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Mrs. Gallo wore an ensemble of aqua silk linen and lace with aqua accessories. The mother of the bridegroom chose a barley colored three - piece knit suit with brown accessories.

MRS. RONALD DUNLAP
Residing In Alliance.

Both wore corsages of white roses.

Miss Joan Lynn Gallo of Canton, cousin of the bride, registered nearly 250 guests at the catered reception held in the church social room.

For a honeymoon to Niagara Falls, the bride chose a black and white ensemble with white accessories. She wore her bridal orchid.

She was graduated from Leetonia High School and attended the Penn-Ohio Junior College. She is employed in the IBM department of the Armour Co. at Alliance.

Her husband was graduated from Salineville High School and attended Ohio State University. He is a chemist for the Alliance Water Department.

The couple will reside at 1307 Parkway Blvd., Alliance.

Democratic Dinner Set At Salem Nov. 4

The Columbiana County Democratic organization will hold its annual Jefferson - Jackson Day dinner Nov. 4 at Salem, it was decided Wednesday night during a countywide meeting of city chairmen, club presidents and mayoralty candidates at the headquarters in Lisbon.

The site of the dinner, traditionally the party's largest affair of the year, will be chosen later.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county chairman, said the party was offered its customary site at Beaver Local High School for Oct. 14, but decided not to accept because a Belmont County Democratic dinner will be held the same night. It was then the party began seeking another site and decided upon Salem.

Plans were made for an all-out campaign to enroll new members in both men's and women's Democratic clubs. Plans also were laid for a drive to raise funds for the November election campaign.

The party officials looked over fall campaign plans city by city and decided that "prospects are bright throughout the county."

Christian Church Men Set Two-Day 'Retreat'

The annual "retreat" for men from district Christian churches (Churches of Christ) will be held Friday night and Saturday at the Elkhorn Valley Christian Service campgrounds at Bergholz in Jefferson County.

Participants are expected from Columbiana, Mahoning, Jefferson and Belmont counties in Ohio; Hancock, Brooke and Ohio counties in West Virginia, and Western Pennsylvania.

The retreat will begin with a "Singspiration" at 5:30 p. m. Friday, followed by supper at 6 and a message on the theme, "Am I A True Worker For Christ?" by Luther Perrine, field representative of the St. Louis Bible College.

Saturday's activities will include singing, private meditation, study groups, recreation and Christian fellowship, climaxed with an inspirational type message by Perrine.

Leading the study groups will be three area ministers, Rod Huron of LaBelle View, Steubenville; Dean Warren, Martins Ferry, and Clarence Mansfield, Columbiana. Fenton Messenger, minister of the Canton church, will be song leader.

Cost of the retreat will be $5 for the full session for $7.50 for fathers and sons. Those attending are to bring bedding, with food and sleeping quarters to be provided. Reservations are not necessary. Those needing additional information may contact William E. Cooper of Follansbee, W. Va., or Dave Flood of Malvern, Ohio.

The basset horn has the same fingering as the clarinet but is pitched a fifth lower in F. Mozart was particularly fond of this instrument.

Methodists Plan Apartments To Lure People Into Church

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — When Dallas Methodists decided they couldn't get enough apartment dwellers into church, they decided to get into apartments—about $1 million worth.

Methodist officials said Wednesday they plan to build a nonprofit apartment complex so that the church will be "working from the inside out rather than from the outside in."

In the 75-unit complex, the Rev. John Rasmussem Jr. of suburban Mesquite will be pastor. He said residents other than Methodists will be welcomed to the apartment complex which will include a parsonage, a church, a swimming pool and possibly a beauty shop.

The project, the Rev. Mr. Rasmussen explained is a pilot effort to show the way to deal with the problem of getting apartment residents interested in religion.

Rentals will be about the same as for other apartments, Methodist officials said, and they emphasized the the project could not be styled "low-rent."

Methodist Bishop W. Kenneth Pope and the Rev. Earl Harvey, both of Dallas, were among Methodist leaders suggesting the new project.

Probably to be completed within a year, the project will have the support of various Methodist agencies and boards, the pastor said.

A pound package of dry red kidney beans yield about two cups. During cooking, of course, the beans swell.

Personalities In The News

NEW YORK (AP)—Post-debutante Julie Nixon, daughter of former Vice President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, attended a tea reception Wednesday to greet Barbara Ann Eisenhower, granddaughter of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who will be making her debut here this winter.

Miss Nixon, 19, came out last year at the International Debutante Ball.

Miss Eisenhower, 18, got some pointers from Julie, including how to curtsy at the coming-out affair.

—:—

WILLIAMSON, W.Va. (AP)—Leonard Boyce, 15, who survived a 24-hour entrapment in a caved-in well, left the hospital Wednesday on crutches.

"I feel fine," said the youth, as he headed across a concrete driveway to his parents' waiting auto.

A doctor said Leonard still suffers from two paralyzed nerves that prevent him from moving the toes on his right foot and restrict movement of his right shoulder.

Boyce, of nearby Lenore, was admitted to Williamson Memorial Hospital 26 days ago after being trapped by falling rock in a water well. Workers dug feverishly for 24 hours before he could be freed.

Before heading home, Boyce stopped at a local bank to receive $1,674 that well-wishers sent him since he survived his ordeal.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jess Oppenheimer, writer - producer of the "I Love Lucy" television show, filed suit Wednesday for an additional $500,000 in royalties.

Oppenheimer contended in Superior Court that under a 1954 agreement, he was entitled to receive royalties for any future use of 153 episodes he wrote and produced for the series.

The suit said a new program, "The Lucy Show," also starring actress Lucille Ball, is based on some of Oppenheimer's original creations.

Defendants include Desilu Productions, Inc.; Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., and Paramount Pictures Corp.

Coronary Care Network Urged By Authorities

LISBON — The Columbiana County heart branch reports medical authorities are calling for development of a nationwide network of special coronary care units in hospitals.

Approximately 300 coronary care units exist, but most of them are in hospitals of more than 250 beds. The units are designed, equipped and staffed to meet the total needs of a patient and have been limited to the larger hospitals because of their cost.

Some 550 physicians, nurses and hospital directors attending the first national conference on coronary care units in Washington, D.C., agreed that there is an urgency to expand such specialized care so a patient, whether he lives in a large or small community, will have a life-saving facility nearby.

Deaths from heart attack continue to rise while fatalities from all other cardovascular disease are on the decline.

Conference participants agreed that although small hospitals have difficulty in supporting separate coronary care units, the life - saving dividends returned indicate it is advisable for small institutions to establish the special units.

The conference recommended that specialized training courses be set up for physicians and nurses to serve in the units.

Judge Assails U.S. Policies On Aid, Viet

George M. Jones, presiding judge of the Seventh District Court of Appeals, criticized the foreign aid problem and America's Vietnam war policy during his talk Wednesday night before the East Liverpool Republican Women's Club at the gas company offices on W. 6th St.

Judge Jones, a resident of Liberty Township in Trumbull County, said Russia spends less on foreign aid than the United States, but receives more respect.

He called the credibility gap in information presented the public and the truth about Vietnam "very great" and pointed out that when President Eisenhower left office only 300 observers were in Vietnam in contrast to the some 500,000 U.S. troops now stationed there.

The judge also declared he feels the Supreme Court "overprotects the many and underprotects the few."

He likened the GOP defeat in the 1964 elections to those of 1912 and 1936.

Crime will be a big issue in the next election, he added.

He was introduced by Mrs. Richard Brian.

Mrs. Helen Walker, chaplain, offered prayer.

Mrs. Grace Leasure resigned as treasurer, since she is moving from the city. Mrs. Byron Eells, project chairman, reported on cookbooks being sold. They may be obtained from any committee member.

A report was heard on a meeting of GOP women club presidents in Columbus.

The next meeting will be Oct. 2 at the gas company.

Hearing Planned By Zoning Board

The Board of Zoning Appeals has scheduled a public hearing Oct. 10 at 7 p. m. in City Hall on a Lisbon St. woman's request for a variance from new zoning regulations to allow construction of a one-car garage on her property.

Robin Gillespie of 1612 Lisbon St. filed the request for the variance from a regulation which says that "no accessory buildings shall be located in any front or side yard except under unusual circumstances. . ." The notice of the hearing was issued by J. Michael Kapp, chairman.

He said the hearing is concerned with Section 508.2 of the zoning regulations, which says: "No accessory buildings shall be located in any front or side yard except under unusual circumstances where such activity shall not conflict with the intent and purposes of this ordinance; or, where enforcement shall result in extreme hardship. Either exception shall require approval of the board. Accessory buildings such as garages may be located in the rear yard provided such buildings are set back at least three feet from the side lot lines and six feet from the rear lot line."

UF Group Maps Plans For Drive Public Relations

Plans for promotion of the annual United Fund drive in the East Liverpool area in October were mapped by the public relations committee of UF Wednesday afternoon at the Red Cross Chapter offices of the Mary Patterson.

Miss Mary Catherine Brady, chairman of the committee, led discussion on plans for newspaper, radio, poster, window display and other programs for the campaign.

Attending the session were Robert Sauer and John Starkey, co-chairmen of the drive, and James McGowan, UF president, along with committee members who included Mrs. Paul Tobin, Capt. Robert Bosh, Bennett Taylor, Glenn Waight, Rod Baum and Ed Monier, executive secretary of UF.

Plans were made to meet with the chief executives of the agencies served by UF to emphasize the need for participation of volunteers of the agencies in the fund drive.

Homecoming Set

Plans are being made for the annual homecoming Sept. 17 at the Grants Hill United Presbyterian Church on the Irondale-Monroeville Rd. The congregation is in charge of arrangements.

News Of Area Residents In Armed Forces

Two area men are serving with the Air Force in Vietnam.

Airman 1c Peter A. Petrosky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Petrosky of 37 8th St., Midland, is on duty at Bien Hoa, where he is an automotive repairman. He attended Midland High School.

Airman 1C Herbert G. Shimer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Shimer of 245 High St., Washingtonville, is also at Bien Hoa, where he is an aircraft maintenance crew chief. He is a 1965 graduate of Leetonia High School. His wife Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Ball of East Palestine RD 1.

Airman 2C John R. White, son of Mrs. Betty L. White of 1019 Ephriam St., has received the Air Force outstanding unit award at Clark Air Base in the Philippines.

White, a supply inventory specialist, received the award as a permanent decoration for helping the 1st Mobile Communications Group achieve an exceptionally meritorious rating. The group was cited for "having overcome extreme living and working conditions in providing highly mobile communications and air traffic control facilities throughout the Pacific and Southeast Asia." White is a graduate of East Liverpool High School.

Airman David A. Botsko, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Botsko of East Palestine RD 1, has been selected for technical training at the Keesler base in Mississippi as an air traffic specialist. He is a 1965 graduate of East Palestine High School and attended Warren Professional College.

These men are receiving Army basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky.:

Pvt. Joseph W. D'Alessio, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vincent D'Alessio, of Dairy Ln., East Liverpool RD 3, and Richard L. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Moore of 912 Orchard Grove Ave.

Army Pvt. Richard L. Moore, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Moore of 912 Orchard Grove Ave., is undergoing basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Moore, who was graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1963, will attend finance school in Indiana following basic training. He attended the Kent State Academic Center here for two years.

Pfc. Michael Lanam will report Sunday to San Francisco for duty in Okinawa following a 17-day furlough spent with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lanam of 526 9th St., Wellsville.

A graduate of Wellsville High School in 1966, he entered the service in December 1966 and took basic training at Ft. Benning, Ga. Pfc. Lanm was graduated from the central office repair school of signal communications at Ft. Gordon, Ga., July 7.

Spec. 4 William C. Sherwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sherwood of Hammondsville, is home on a 30-day leave from Ft. David, Panama Canal Zone. He serves with Co. "C" 4th Battalion, 10th Infantry.

Sherwood, who was graduated from Southern Local High School, will return to the Canal Zone upon completion of his leave.

Early Ballots To Be Issued

Civilians residing temporaily outside the United States may make application, effective Friday, for absentee ballots for the Nov. 7 general election, the County Election Board announced today.

Friday also is the first day for actual issuance of ballots to members of the armed services both in the U. S. and overseas, provided they have already applied. Anyone in the military service may make application for absentee armed forces ballots for both the primary and general election after Jan. 1 of each year.

The deadline for applying for civilian absentee ballots from persons outside the U.S. will fall at 4 p.m. Nov. 2. Applications for armed forces general election ballots must be filed by noon on Nov. 4.

The board pointed out each person must make his own request for an absentee ballot. The requests may be made by card or letter to the Election Board at Post Office Box 35.

Nov. 3 at noon is the deadline for return of all civilian absentee ballots to the Election Board. Noon on Election Day is the deadline for armed services ballots to be returned.

12,000 Idled In Strike At Dayton Plant

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Employes of General Motors' two huge Frigidaire Division plants here were on strike today. A union spokesman said the surprise walkout affects some 12,000 workers.

Second and third shift employes left their jobs at midnight Wednesday when their contract expired and set up picket lines.

Joseph Shump, president of Local 801, International Union of Electrical Workers (IEU), said the union had offered to continue working under the old contract and charged GM with refusal "to engage in true collective bargaining."

Early Wednesday evening, Frigidaire spokesmen said they had no advance warning of a strike.

But Vernon Lewis, manager of Industrial relations for Frigidaire, said later the strike will not shut down the plants. which produce refrigerators, food freezers, home air-conditioners, ranges and other household equipment.

"Our plants will be open and work will be available "for employes who want it, he said.

Shump said the union told GM "there had not been enough time for true bargaining and they have not addressed themselves to our issues."

He added that the union requested an extension of the present contract "due to the lateness of their (GM's) proposal last week." Shump said the company had offered a new proposal.

"At this point we have resolved two" of 52 union demands, Shump said. He listed the main issue as pensions, unemployment benefits and wage increases. It was not learned how much wage increase the union is seeking or what GM offered.

Body Identified As Ohio Coed, 18

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Police said Wednesday the charred body found in a burned $25,000 summer beach house has been identified as that of Susan Fussel, who attended college in Ohio.

She was the 18-year-old daughter of Frank Fussell, a retired Puerto Rican business executive. The girl would have been a sophomore at Lake Erie College in Painesville, Ohio, this fall.

Police said the girl's body was found Tuesday night. She appeared to have been stabbed several times and apparently had been wrapped in a fishing net.

Police helicopter and ground patrols were looking for a man whom two friends of the girl said had chased them away from the beach house at knifepoint Tuesday shortly before the fire.

Sheriff's Office Post Given Lisbon Officer

LISBON — Policeman Richard J. Koffel, 27, of 519 W. Washington St. will leave the department Sept. 15 to become a field deputy for Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan.

The officer, married and the father of two, began working as part-time policeman in 1963 and has been a regular since December 1965.

He submitted his resignation Wednesday to Mayor Dean Stockman. Koffel will replace Deputy Sid Boydston of East Palestine, who leaves Sept. 15 to join the East Palestine police department.

Company 'A' Meeting Set Tonight At 7:30

A meeting of Co. "A", 7th Battalion, 68th Armor will be held tonight at 7:30 in City Hall, Sgt. 1C John B. Scales, first sergeant, has announced.

Scales noted that, in comparison to 1966 when Army reserve troops provided primary support for the National Rifle and Pistol Matches at Camp Perry, "an even more efficient organization was realized this summer, from Aug. 18 through Sept. 1. Co. "A" was represented by Sgt. Scales, Sgt. 1C John E. Chavis Jr., Sgt. Joseph Danko and Spec. 4 Winston L. Meyers.

Nearly 3,350 Army reservists served in some capacity at the camp between the middle of July and the first week in September.

Mile Branch Grange of Columbiana County was among those recognized for outstanding community service in the national Grange - Sears - Roebuck Foundation program for two years ending Aug. 1.

Marvin Dye of Alliance RD 5 is master.

Top state honors were taken by Auburn Grange of Geauga County.

Lisbon Area News

Mrs. Ray Alexander 424-5674

LISBON — Seventeen members of the May Pritchard Group of Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church attended the meeting Tuesday night at the Morgan House, with Mrs. William Gibson serving as hostess.

Mrs. Naomi Mattix, group leader, presided during the business meeting when plans were made for the annual rummage sale Sept. 28-29 and the annual "soup luncheon and this and that sale" Oct. 25.

The study course was presented by Mrs. Mattix. A feature of the worship service led by Mrs. Charles Y. Carlisle was music presented by a group of young folks from Augusta, Ohio.

Mrs. Earl Foster and Mrs. Ray Alexander will be hostesses for the Oct. 3 meeting.

Coin Club Meets

Mel Smith, president, conducted business when the Lisbon Coin Club met Tuesday night at Democratic headquarters.

He also served as co-host for the 28 members and 3 guests present with Mrs. Cara Haines and Mrs. Margaret De Sellem.

Robert Sitler served as auctioneer for the coin sale. Prizes were awarded Glenn Culler, Lloyd De Sellem, Vernon Flora Jr., Tony Gallo, Richard Grim, Mrs. Haines, Nick Ieropoli, George Micky, Joe Pasco, John Ramsey, Dale Sheely, Mel Smith and James Smith.

The next meeting will be Oct. 3.

The Rev. John Campbell of E. Lincoln Way, retired minister of the Akron Methodist Church had as guests during the past weekend Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Hogue, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kline and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyd, all of Akron.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Bureon of S. Lincoln Ave. were hosts to a Labor Day weekend gathering of friends at their Beech Creek Lodge at Snow Shoe, Pa.

There were 20 present from New York, New Jersey, Cleveland and Lisbon.

Mrs. Julia Hull of the Canton Rd. returned home Sunday from Salem City Hospital, where she had been a patient the last two weeks.

Lisbon Personals

Miss Glenna Logston and David Logston, children of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Logston of E. Chestnut St., have returned to Harding College, Searcy, Ark. following a week's visit at their home here.

Glenna, who has spent the summer on a religious survey in South Carolina, Pennsylvania and the Ashtabula (Ohio) area, will be a senior. David, who will be a sophomore, worked the past summer in Florida and resided with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Asher of Sarasota, Fla. formerly of Chester, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Asher are visiting the Logstons.

Cash, Television Set Are Reported Stolen

LISBON — M. E. McBurney, who operates McBurney's Lake on Route 154 between Signal and Rogers, returned home at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday to find burglars had been there during the day.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan said entrance was gained by prying open a door between the basement garage and basement.

McBurney told the sheriff between $100 and $150 in cash, a portable television set, some old coins and several rings and watches are missing. He said he found his camera in a bucket in the garage.

Ed Hildebrand reported to the sheriff that someone broke a window in his grocery at Dixonville the night of Sept. 4-5 and took five cartons of cigarettes.

3,000 Will Get Ballots For Election Of ASC

LISBON — The Columbiana County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee will mail community election ballots Friday to approximately 3,000 eligible voters.

Each of the 11 communities will elect a chairman, vice chairman, member and two alternates. Ballots are to be returned by Sept. 18 to the ASC office at 41 N. Park Ave., where they will be tallied Sept. 20.

Each community committee will send three delegates to the county ASC convention Sept. 27 at Lisbon to elect a member of the county committee and two alternates.

Wellsville Man Hurt When Auto Hits Truck

A Wellsville man was injured late Wednesday night when his car ran into the rear of a halted tractor-trailer truck on Route 14-A between Salem and Deerfield.

James M. Clark of 602 Commerce St. was treated at City Hospital for a cut on the chin, bruised arm and abrasions of the left knee.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Canfield said Clark was headed north and struck the rear of the rig which was operated by Robert Metzgar, 32, of Salem RD 5, who had halted because of a traffic mishap ahead.

Earthquake Rocks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An earthquake rocked San Francisco today at 5:42 a.m. There were no immediate reports of injuries or damage.

The police department, moments later, reported receiving 15 or 20 telephone calls about the quake but no report of either damage or injury.

Glenna, who has spent the summer on a religious survey in South Carolina, Pennsylvania and the Ashtabula (Ohio) area, will be a senior. David, who will be a sophomore, worked the past summer in Florida and resided with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Asher of Sarasota, Fla. formerly of Chester, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Asher are visiting the Logstons.

Cash, Television Set Are Reported Stolen

LISBON — M. E. McBurney, who operates McBurney's Lake on Route 154 between Signal and Rogers, returned home at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday to find burglars had been there during the day.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan said entrance was gained by prying open a door between the basement garage and basement.

McBurney told the sheriff between $100 and $150 in cash, a portable television set, some old coins and several rings and watches are missing. He said he found his camera in a bucket in the garage.

Ed Hildebrand reported to the sheriff that someone broke a window in his grocery at Dixonville the night of Sept. 4-5 and took five cartons of cigarettes.

3,000 Will Get Ballots For Election Of ASC

LISBON — The Columbiana County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee will mail community election ballots Friday to approximately 3,000 eligible voters.

Each of the 11 communities will elect a chairman, vice chairman, member and two alternates. Ballots are to be returned by Sept. 18 to the ASC office at 41 N. Park Ave., where they will be tallied Sept. 20.

Each community committee will send three delegates to the county ASC convention Sept. 27 at Lisbon to elect a member of the county committee and two alternates.

12,000 Idled In Strike At Dayton Plant

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Employes of General Motors' two huge Frigidaire Division plants here were on strike today. A union spokesman said the surprise walkout affects some 12,000 workers.

Second and third shift employes left their jobs at midnight Wednesday when their contract expired and set up picket lines.

Joseph Shump, president of Local 801, International Union of Electrical Workers (IEU), said the union had offered to continue working under the old contract and charged GM with refusal "to engage in true collective bargaining."

Early Wednesday evening, Frigidaire spokesmen said they had no advance warning of a strike.

But Vernon Lewis, manager of Industrial relations for Frigidaire, said later the strike will not shut down the plants. which produce refrigerators, food freezers, home air-conditioners, ranges and other household equipment.

"Our plants will be open and work will be available "for employes who want it, he said.

Shump said the union told GM "there had not been enough time for true bargaining and they have not addressed themselves to our issues."

He added that the union requested an extension of the present contract "due to the lateness of their (GM's) proposal last week." Shump said the company had offered a new proposal.

"At this point we have resolved two" of 52 union demands, Shump said. He listed the main issue as pensions, unemployment benefits and wage increases. It was not learned how much wage increase the union is seeking or what GM offered.

Wellsville Man Hurt When Auto Hits Truck

A Wellsville man was injured late Wednesday night when his car ran into the rear of a halted tractor-trailer truck on Route 14-A between Salem and Deerfield.

James M. Clark of 602 Commerce St. was treated at City Hospital for a cut on the chin, bruised arm and abrasions of the left knee.

The Chio Highway Patrol at Canfield said Clark was headed north and struck the rear of the rig which was operated by Robert Metzgar, 32, of Salem RD 5, who had halted because of a traffic mishap ahead.

Earthquake Rocks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An earthquake rocked San Francisco today at 5:42 a.m. There were no immediate reports of injuries or damage.

The police department, moments later, reported receiving 15 or 20 telephone calls about the quake but no report of either damage or injury.

Early Ballots To Be Issued

Civilians residing temporaily outside the United States may make application, effective Friday, for absentee ballots for the Nov. 7 general election, the County Election Board announced today.

Friday also is the first day for actual issuance of ballots to members of the armed services both in the U. S. and overseas, provided they have already applied. Anyone in the military service may make application for absentee armed forces ballots for both the primary and general election after Jan. 1 of each year.

The deadline for applying for civilian absentee ballots from persons outside the U.S. will fall at 4 p.m. Nov. 2. Applications for armed forces general election ballots must be filed by noon on Nov. 4.

The board pointed out each person must make his own request for an absentee ballot. The requests may be made by card or letter to the Election Board at Post Office Box 35.

Nov. 3 at noon is the deadline for return of all civilian absentee ballots to the Election Board. Noon on Election Day is the deadline for armed services ballots to be returned.

Body Identified As Ohio Coed, 18

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Police said Wednesday the charred body found in a burned $25,000 summer beach house has been identified as that of Susan Fussel, who attended college in Ohio.

She was the 18-year-old daughter of Frank Fussell, a retired Puerto Rican business executive. The girl would have been a sophomore at Lake Erie College in Painesville, Ohio, this fall.

Police said the girl's body was found Tuesday night. She appeared to have been stabbed several times and apparently had been wrapped in a fishing net.

Police helicopter and ground patrols were looking for a man whom two friends of the girl said had chased them away from the beach house at knifepoint Tuesday shortly before the fire.

Sheriff's Office Post Given Lisbon Officer

LISBON — Policeman Richard J. Koffel, 27, of 519 W. Washington St. will leave the department Sept. 15 to become a field deputy for Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan.

The officer, married and the father of two, began working as part-time policeman in 1963 and has been a regular since December 1965.

He submitted his resignation Wednesday to Mayor Dean Stockman. Koffel will replace Deputy Sid Boydston of East Palestine, who leaves Sept. 15 to join the East Palestine police department.

Company 'A' Meeting Set Tonight At 7:30

A meeting of Co. "A", 7th Battalion, 68th Armor will be held tonight at 7:30 in City Hall, Sgt. 1C John B. Scales, first sergeant, has announced.

Scales noted that, in comparison to 1966 when Army reserve troops provided primary support for the National Rifle and Pistol Matches at Camp Perry, "an even more efficient organization was realized this summer, from Aug. 18 through Sept. 1. Co. "A" was represented by Sgt. Scales, Sgt. 1C John E. Chavis Jr., Sgt. Joseph Danko and Spec. 4 Winston L. Meyers.

Nearly 3,350 Army reservists served in some capacity at the camp between the middle of July and the first week in September.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Perhaps you will say my problem is nothing compared with a woman whose husband is an alcoholic and beats her, but I need to talk to someone. Please don't suggest I talk to my clergyman because he wishes he had a dozen more like "good old Joe."

Joe is a "committee man." He is on 11 committees which involve church, business and civic causes. With only one car and a tight budget. I'm left at home almost every evening. When I try to talk to Joe about this he says, "It's for a good cause."

The children idolize their father because they don't see him very much. When he's at home it's one big picnic. He plays with them as if he were a kid himself — no discipline, just fun and games. He's the swell guy and I'm the mean one.

Everyone in town thinks Joe is terrific. He gets medals, awards and praise galore. In the meantime I am — ALONE ALOT.

Dear Alone: In order to change your husband you'd have to start with his grandmother. Men (and women, too) who give so much of themselves to the community that nothing is left for the family pay a high price for the medals and awards. But they love the glory because it makes them feel important.

Hire a sitter and go with him whenever you can. In the meantime continue to discipline the kids and be "the mean one." They'll thank you in a few years.

Doubting Thomas

Dear Ann: Tell that bride whose husband doubted her chastity to run, not walk, to the nearest counselor. If that fails, advise her to get an annulment.

Nineteen years ago I married a man who told me on our wedding night that he was surprised to discover I was a virgin because a friend of his had told him he knew from experience that I was not.

The informer was a sorehead, determined to get even with me for rejecting him.

Last night my husband kept me up until 2 a.m., insisting that I break down and tell him the truth once and for all. I asked him if he was trying to drive me out of my mind or out of our marriage. He said he couldn't help it, that he had been brooding over this for years and I never had convinced him I was telling the truth.

When I asked why he would take the word of an angry 18-year-old against mine — a faithful, loving wife of nearly 20 years — there was no answer. Do you have any advice for me? — JUST CRUSHED.

Dear Just: Yes. Accept the fact that your husband has a sick mind. If he refuses to talk this out with a professional, then you must resolve never again to respond to his punishing attacks.

When he gets on the subject, simply say, "I have nothing more to say on the subject" and make no further comment.

Confidentially

To Man or Mouse: Don't leave any cheese lying around.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

City Receives $6,201 Offer On Surfacing

The Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry filed the lone bid of $6,201 Wednesday afternoon with Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey for blacktop resurfacing of sections of three downtown streets and three off-street parking lots.

The resurfacing will cover these streets sections: Washington between E. 6th and 4th; Jackson from W. 6th to W. 5th, and Market from 6th to 3rd. In addition, the contractor will resurface two city-owned parking lots on W. 6th St. near City Hall and another at 3rd and Market Sts., adjoining the former Salvation Army property.

The work will be done in conjunction with a separate Ohio Highway Department contract for resurfacing of State Route 39's path through the downtown area, notably stretches of E. and W. 5th and 6th Sts., Jefferson St. and Broadway.

Tri-State also was the low bidder on the second job. It filed with the highway department in Columbus a combined offer of $136,372 covering the three small jobs in Jefferson County.

City Engineer George S. Bloomgren said Tri - State's prices on the local contract are "approximate," as the final bill will be submitted on the basis of tons of material actually used.

Tri-State's bid totaled $1,830 for resurfacing of the three parking lots. It bid $2,256 on the Market St. project, $587.50 for surfacing the Jackson St. stretch and $1,527.50 for the work on Washington St.

The project will entail cleaning the existing surface, applying a tack coat and applying two types of hot laid asphaltic concrete.

Grazing Authorized Now In Date Change

LISBON — Columbiana County farmers with diverted acres in the 1967 feed grain program may now use them for grazing, although the previously announced grazing date was Oct. 1.

J. Glenn Bates, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said the U.S. Department of Agriculture changed the grazing date to Sept. 1.

He emphasized that the new date does not change the non-grazing regulation for farms in the conservation reserve and cropland adjustment programs.

If a recipe calls for 1¼ cups uncooked hominy grits, count on needing ½ pound.

Chester Board Awards Contract For Project

A Pennsylvania firm has been awarded a contract to construct an addition to the Chester pumping station.

Bettler Brothers of Bethel Park was chosen for the work on a bid of $7,680 — higher than the $6,550 submitted by R. K. McKee of Columbiana—during Wednesday night's meeting of the Water and Sewage Board.

A lone bid for electrical work in conjunction with the project was received from the Sayre Electric Co. of East Liverpool and the board, after a lengthy discussion, agreed to seek additional bids.

At least two other East Liverpool firms were to be contacted today by Water Department officials for estimates.

Sayre's bid was $1,120, which members feel is too high.

The pump for the plant has been delivered by the Pennsylvania Drilling Co. at a cost of $2,300 and will be installed when the necessary construction at the present pumping station site is completed.

Bettler's bid includes all necessary work in preparation for installation of the pump, but does not include the actual installation or painting.

The total cost of the project will be approximately $11,100.

The board said it will pass on the electrical bids "as soon as possible."

In other action, board member Jack Allison, said he has received a request from some residents on Georgia Ave. for water and sewage service.

He recommended the board provide it on an assessment basis. No action was taken.

Allison also reported on the cost of connecting homes on Pyramus St. from Liberty to Lycia Aves. to the city's water system. He said the McKee company would lay the necessary line for approximately $3,000.

He said this comes to about $4 a foot for the 810 feet of line that would be needed.

Warren Council OK's Fair Housing Plan

WARREN, Ohio (AP)— A fair housing ordinance aimed at eliminating discrimination in sale or rental of housing was passed Wednesday night by Warren City Council.

The ordinance also covers financing.

It provides for appointment by the mayor of a nine-member commission to investigate complaints.

Violators could be fined up to $500 and sent to jail for six months.

City Solicitor William P. McLain said the legislation also includes personal property, which is not covered by state law.

Dear Heloise: I make teacup coasters out of used paper placemats.

With the careful diner, decorated paper placemats are scarcely soiled after one meal, yet really cannot be used on the table again.

I use a mayonnaise jar lid as a pattern guide and cut elegant and absorbent coasters to put under each cup. No more dripping tea or coffee cups when you lift them from the saucer .. . the coasters catch it all.

And don't throw the placemates out if you don't drink tea or coffee — just use them under your pet's food dish.

LEE GEORGE.

.. -:-

Your placemat idea was great. Ever trying using your pinking shears for that? Sure makes them neat.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I had trouble blocking my crocheted doilies to a perfect circle until I thought of using my husband's round dart board. It is made of cork and is very easy to stick pins into.

I first cover it with plastic to protect my doily from any soil in the cork. Then I just pin away.

Works great!

MRS. R. LLOYD.

DEAR HELOISE: How do you get the awful odor of bleach off your hands, besides wearing rubber gloves while using it?

JUNE VIET.

.. -:-

Dear June: To remove the "slick" from your hands after using household bleach, fist rinse them. Then grab that vinegar bottle and go "blub" (that's one good gurgle) over your hands, rub them together and rinse again.

That's all that there is to it, kiddo.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: As I was making a meatloaf this morning, I wondered if anyone had ever thought of this:

I always wear a pair of rubber gloves to mix things like meatloaf, dressing, etc. that require hand mixing.

It is much more pleasant, especially if the meat is cold. And you never have that gooey feeling on your hands.

I do a far better job of mixing, too.

BLANCHE WACHTEL.

DEAR HELOISE: This hint may be helpful to mothers with a child just learning to feed himself.

Cut the feet from a pair of men's white cotton socks that have been foiled well. Then slip the leg part of the socks over the child's sleeves, with the sock top at the wrist.

If you have several pairs, it really saves on the number of shirts soiled per day.

JESSIE.

DEAR HELOISE: I carry several index cards and postcards in my purse. They come in handy when I have to wait for an appointment.

You can usually write several to friends or relatives if you have seen all the magazines that interest you in the waiting room.

If not, and you find a recipe you would like to try, copy it onto the file card. The card is ready to be filed when you return home,

MRS. RAY PLUNKETT.

DEAR HELOISE: All summer now I have been ruining the heels of my pastel shoes on the rubber flooring under the driver's seat of my car. That dirty black rubber has left marks on every pair I own and cleaning them isn't easy.

I finally got good and mad and decided to use a piece of left-over carpeting to cover that whole area, extending it up a little under the heel of the gas pedal.

Well, I'm just writing to let you know that it's the best idea I've ever had. Not one pair of shoes has been damaged since. And it makes for a more comfortable heel rest, too!

Citizenship Granted To Native Of France

LISBON — Marie Pierrette Jackson, 29, of Hanoverton RD 1, a native of France, became a United States citizen Tuesday in Columbiana County Common Pleas Court.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard granted her application which was transferred from Norfolk, Va., to this county, and also her petition for change of name to Pierrette Marie Jackson.

Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey administered the oath of citizenship.

If They Seek Re-Election

Foes Of Education-Tax Bill Face OEA Opposition

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Legislators who voted against the administration's education-tax bill can expect opposition from the state's biggest teacher organization if they seek re-election next year.

That's the word circulating in the Ohio Education Association (OEA), claiming 86,000 school teacher and administrator members out of some 96,000 in the state.

Most Democrats and a shattering of Republicans voted against the bill in the final showdown that found the GOP majority unable to muster enough support for immediate pay increases to teachers and other school employes, although they will start retroactively Dec. 1.

Teachers get an average of $700-800 a year raises and nonteaching employes an increase of 10 cents an hour with a $100 annual minimum and $208 maximum.

Congratulatory letters from school officials, some of them formerly among Gov. James A. Rhodes' severest critics, indicate the depth of sentiment from which election opposition could stem.

Similar letters commending the governor also come from leading Roman Catholic churchmen for his support of a $15 million auxiliary services appropriation for nonpublic schools in the $300 million program funded by increases in sales, cigarettes and corporate franchise taxes.

The enacted program, boosting the two - year total for schools and higher education to a record of $1.2 billion, also could work against organizing efforts of the Ohio Federation of Teachers, an AFL-CIO union affiliate, in the opinion of some.

"It has put the union in a bind to explain the vote against immediate pay raises," an education leader asserted.

But Warren Smith, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio AFL-CIO which opposed the penny sales tax boost along with Democrats to get most of the increase for education, asserted the new law would not slow the union's drive for members.

An estimated 6,000 belong to the teacher union.

OEA Executive Secretary Stayner Brighton lauded Rhodes and the GOP legislative leadership for honoring their commitment to education.

And John D. Millett, Regents chancellor, hailed the enacted program as a milestone in education.

"I know that most people will see only the increase in tax payments," Millett wrote the governor, "but surely our citizens will also shortly realize that you and the general assembly have contributed substantially to their future benefit.

Supt. W. C. Smith of Mahoning County schools recalled that Rhodes, now serving his second four-year term, promised in the 1962 campaign to "change the trend in the matter of state support for schools."

"The new support program for schools is," Smith wrote, "the most outstanding accomplishment toward improvement of Ohio schools that has occurred in many decades."

Commendatory letters also came from Eva D. Caulley, executive chairman of the Oak Hill School District in Rhodes' home county of Jackson; Supt. Sibert R. Durose of Gallipolis city schools and Defiance School Supt. Claude W. Henke.

"You can rest assured that you have support within our ranks for the future," Durose said.

Lorain County College Will Be Dedicated

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — The campus at Lorain County Community College here will be dedicated Sunday afternoon, with Dr. John D. Millett, chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents, as the main speaker.

The campus, which opened last October, consits of six buildings erected at a cost of about $11 million.

Shooting And Heart Seizure Claim Two

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 64-year-old delivery service operator died in a Columbus hospital Wednesday after shooting himself earlier in the day, police said. The victim was identified as Thomas Wintle of Columbus.

Bartholomew Sullivan, 67, also of Columbus, died of a heart attack while trying to help Wintle, police reported.

fought for seven hours across the canal Monday, and Egyptian authorities claimed that the Israeli shelling of the Red Sea port of Suez killed 44 civilians and wounded 170, wrecked 40 homes and damaged many more.

ference: "I think Ford workers are able to stand the test."

Henry Ford II, board chairman and grandson of the company founder, assailed the walkout as "totally unjustified and completely unnecessary."

He called it "a bludgeon against the public interest," and "tragic in its implications for the whole nation."

The gap between the opposing positions was reflected in another news conference when Ford's top bargainer, Malcolm Denise, was asked if the two sides ever came close to a settlement.

"I think I can answer that with a flat no," he said.

General Motors and Chrysler, the other members of the Big Three, also stiffened Wednesday to the union demands. While agreeing to continue production and pay wages and benefits to workers according to contract provisions, they refused to extend the three-year pacts that expired with Ford's at 11:59 p.m.

Union and company spokesmen said a decision on when to resume negotiations may not come until Monday.

There was no indication that Ford would present a new offer. Only a day earlier, Denise told newsmen Ford had no new proposal and was not preparing one.

In its only proposal thus far, Ford offered a general wage boost of 13 cents an hour, plus 2.8 per cent the last two years of a proposed three-year contract. The company said this would total a minimum of 34 cents.

The union demands, which Reuther calls "the longest and most ambitious in UAW history," have been estimated at from 90 cents to $4 an hour per worker, compared to $4.70 an hour per worker the companies now pay in wages and benefits.

Top UAW demands are for a substantial wage increase, an additional wage boost for skilled tradesmen, higher pensions, elimination of the disparity between Canadian and U.S. auto plant pay, and guaranteed annual income.

Ford made no mention of the last two items. The union said the Ford offer on the other issues was unsatisfactory.

UCLA holds four straight football victories over Stanford.

Crucible Sees Blow From 'Long' Strike

The shutdown of auto plants by strikes would affect production at the Crucible Steel Co., which supplies various steel products for the industry.

A Midland Division spokesman said, "If there is an auto strike of any length, it would adversely affect our business—the extent of which would be determined by the length of the walkout."

When is "The Most Important Time of Your Life?"

Some people say it's when you've reached "the peak" and are "going strong." Some Doctors say that youth is the most important time of your life, when body and mind are being prepared for the road ahead. Potters Host Cleveland East In Football Opener

The Review Sports

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1967 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 16

Visitors Weak After 2-7 Season

By Turk Pierce
Review Sports Editor

"When you're coaching a football team you always think of the bad things that can happen", East Liverpool mentor Bob NcNea says.

The Potters open their 1967 grid campaign by hosting Cleveland East High tomorrow night at 7:45 and it would take an awful lot of bad things to happen for it to be an unhappy opening for local fans.

"Both our big halfbacks could get hurt in the first period and we would have to change our whole style of offense", speculates McNea gloomfly, putting up his usual pessimistic front. "Or we could fumble, or the other team could get all the breaks, or . . ."

Or East Liverpool could be playing the Green Bay Packers instead of a team that went 2-7 last year and has very few lettermen back and is picked to finis near the bottom of the Cleveland East Senate.

There are problems for the locals, however, Jim Bess suffered a cracked bone in his hand during Saturday's scrimmage and is a doubtful starter. Tom Chambers and Dick Rowley are nursing ankle injuries, and that accounts for three starters in the line. All may play, however.

McNea's major complaint is that the team has not been tested in its scrimmages. "We have the possibility of a fine team," he says, "but we won't know until we see if the boys will hit when it counts."

McNea says the offensive back field will be strong, except for a lack of breakaway speed. The offensive line and the defense are inexperienced, he notes, but have the potential to be good.

The Potter coach looks for the visiting Blue Bombers to run wide sweeps and try passes to take advantage of their speed. Lewis Barber, a 5-10, 160 senior, is the quarterback. Hurley Harris, a 6-0, 175 senior fullback, is the top runner for East.

Top linemen are end John Lang, a 6-2, 167 senior, and center Fred Williams, a 5-10, 185 senior. The defensive backfield, with Barber and James Conkle, a 5-9, 154 senior, is strong. Coach Bob Madison's team has only 31 men on the squad, as many potential football players in the school district have dropped football to continue the jobs they started his summer under anti-poverty programs.

The starting backfield for the locals will be Earl Diddle, a 5-8, 148 senior at quarterback, Mike McVay, 6-0, 182 senior and Jim Musuraca, 5-10 170 junior at fullbacks and senior Bill Jones, 5-10, 170 at fullback.

Bruce Christian, a 6-3, 180 senior, will be the tight end, and Chambers or John Johnson, a 6-0, 160 junior, will be at split end. Chambers is 5-10, 162, also a junior. Stanley Ice, 6-0, 205 senior, will be one tackle and the other will probably be John Stepien, a 6-0, 175 senior.

Bill Hopper, a 5-9, 154 senior, will be one guard and the other will be Rowley, 5-11, 160 senior or Bob Jones, 5-10, 155 senior. Center will be senior Ray Boyd, 5-9, 165, as Bess can not grip the ball to play offense.

On defense Hopper and Christian will be at the ends, Ice and Don Cochran, a 6-1, 180 junior, at tackles, and Bess or Boyd and Stepien, Bob Jones, sophomore Joe Walker, 5-10, 160 or Floyd Cranston, a 5-11, 160 junior, at guards. Linebackers will be McVay and Mike Jackson the 5-5, 123 senior "monster man." Musuraca is set at safety in the 6-2-2-1 alignment, but halfback is unsettled. Chambers or Rowley may be at one and John Johnson, or Nelson (Sonny) Clark, a 5-10, 155 junior, at the other.

There will be a pre - game parade at 8 tonight.

Potter Reserves Open Saturday

Last year both junior highs, the reserves, the sophomores and the varsity all had winning records. Westgate was 3-2-1, East Junior was 4-1-1. the Sophomores were 5-1, the Reserves were 6-2, and the Varsity was 9-1 and rated tenth in Ohio.

The Junior High program is showing tremendous promise since boys now coming to the High School are well acquainted with the brand of football used by the Varsity. Since the Sophomores have a seperate schedule from the Reserves, more boys have the opportunity to play under game conditions.

Rams Choice In Coastal Division

Packers Best Bet In NFL

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Green Bay will win the West. Who else? The Packers already have installed an electric heating system to warm the field for the Dec. 31 title game.

The Packers convinced both the NFL and the AFL last season when they added the Super Bowl to their triumphs in the National Football League.

Green Bay's opponent on New Year's Eve probably will be Dallas. Before that game, they must dispose of the Los Angeles Rams, who are the pick here to take the Coastal Division of the West.

It looks like a big season for the snow boot and parka set. Green Bay winds up its regular season at home, Dec. 19. If they win the Central Division, as expected, they play the Coastal winner at Green Bay Sat. Dec. 23. If they win that they play the Eastern champs Dec. 31, once more at Green Bay.

CENTRAL

1. Green Bay
2. Detroit
3. Minnesota
4. Chicago

COASTAL

1. Los Angeles
2. San Francisco
3. Baltimore
4. Atlanta

It may take a year or two for Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski to make people forget about Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor. It may. The Gold Dust Twins are ready to cut loose after watching from the bench most of last year.

When Bart Starr can't play, Zeke Bratkowski can do the job as the Dallas Cowboys discovered in their Aug. 28 exhibition game. The Pack's 20-3 victory in preseason convinced many Texans that last year's game in the Cotton Bowl was no mistake.

Defense is the big item at Green Bay. Willie Davis, Henry Jordan and Co., plus those three linebackers and a talened deep defense shut down tight when the enemy threatens.

The runner-up to Green Bay is a wide open scramble. Minnesota appears to have troubles at quarterback, now that Fran Tarkenton is gone. Perhaps, Bud Grant, the new coach, will find the answer early but the safe thing to do is to give him time to get things together by mid-season.

Despite their shocking defeat by Denver in the first NFL-AFL game, Detroit appears to be putting things together. Whether Joe Schmidt finally settles on Karl Sweetan or Milt Plum, the No. 1 quarterback will have fine targets in Pat Studstill, Gail Cogdill and Bill Malinchau.

Much depends on Mel Farr and the injured Nick Eddy, two prize rookies.The Lions' defense is getting old together but still can rise to the occasion.

Chicago has many problems, aggravated by retirements, injuries and trades. Jack Concannon's slow recovery from arm trouble has left the quarterback job unsettled. The one big plus is Gale Sayers, the best game-breaker in pro football.

The new divisional setup should prove a boom to Los Angeles, San Francisco and Baltimore, who can handwrestle for a title without having to contend with Green Bay on a home-and-home basis. Atlanta is in the same division but hardly rates as a contender despite improvement.

John Unitas is the reson the Colts are favored in most preseason polls to beat out the Rams and 49ers. Unitas always has been able to beat San Francisco just by walking out on the field. However, some doubts about Unitas' ability to go all the way has swung this observer off the Colts despite their rugged defense.

Los Angeles can take it all if Tommy Mason and Dick Bass stay healthy. Bass made it in every game last year. Mason, who wears 3½ pounds of tape around his knees, has been a part timer at Minnesota for years. George Allen rested both in the exhibitions and hopes to get full use in the regular season.

Roman Gabriel and Bill Munson are capable quarterbacks and they have receivers like Jack Snow, Bernie Casey and Tommy McDonald. Most of all the Rams have that fearsome foursome up front on defense—Lamar Lundy, Deacon Jones, Merlin Olsen and Rosey Grier.

Grier, however, suffered a leg injury last Friday night in an exhibition game against Kansas City and is expected to be sidelined at least two months.

The 49ers, a mixed - up club last year, are sniffing big money this season. The defense is questionable but they can move the ball with John Brodie throwing to Dave Parks and John David Crow and Ken Willard running up the middle.

Baltimore's offense sagged last year when they scored only seven touchdowns rushing. It will be up to the defense to keep them in the game while waiting for Unitas to throw the bomb.

The Falcons have added Tom Moore to help their running game and Randy Johnson should be better with a year under his belt.

Clark Graebner Calm In Facing Roy Emerson

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — "He'll be more scared of me than I'll be of him—the pressure will all be on his side of the court."

He may be churning inside but scholarly looking Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, is outwardly full of calm and confidence as he looks toward his quarter-final battle with Australia's veteran Roy Emerson Friday in the National Tennis Championships.

Seeded seventh, the highest ranking of the thin American threat, the 23-year-old Graebner doesn't figure to have much chance against the nut-brown, 31-year-old Queenslander, who won this title in 1961 and 1964 and who many think will do it again.

Graebner, booted off the U.S. Davis Cup team a year ago because of his violent temper, swept into the quarter-finals for the second straight year Wednesday by beating Mark Cox, England's No. 3 Davis Cup ace, 6-3, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4.

"I have a much better attitude now," Clark, once known as a doubles specialist, said. "I just go in there and bang away. I don't let little things bug me any more. Also, I'm using one of these new steel rackets. I think it has helped my game tremendously.

Grebner is one of four U.S. survivors. The other three were scheduled for fourth - round action today. Ron Holmberg, the balding veteran from West Point, N.Y., played Gene Scott of St. James, N.Y., in one match while Bobby Lutz, the Los Angeles youngster, faced South Africa's Bob Hewitt in another.

The remaining men's fourth-round matches sent Wimbledon champ and No. 1 seed John Newcombe of Australia against Ray Moore of South Africa and left-handed Owen Davidson of Australia against Mexico's Rafael Osuna, winner here in 1963.

Graebner was joined in the quarter-finals Wednesday by Emerson, who toyed with Marcelo Lara of Mexico, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4; Ron Barnes of Brazil, who beat Australia's Bill Bowrey, 7-5, 3-6, 9-7, 7-5, and Jan Leschly, the remarkable 26 - year - old Danish druggist, who scored his third straight upset in beating Thomas Koch of Brazil, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

The lower bracket of the women's division is slated to go into the semfiinals today. Second-seeded Ann Haydon Jones of Britain plays 18-year-old Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich., and Leslie Turner of Australia, No. 5, against Rita Bentley of Britain.

Wimbledon champion Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., gained the quarter-finals Wednesday, beating Virginia Wade of Britain 6-1, 6-4. On Friday she will play Annette Van Zyl of South Africa, who won over Carole Graebner, Clark's wife, 6-4, 6-4.

Francoise Durr of France, who won over 18-year-old Lynne Abbes of Orinda, Calif., 6-1, 5-7, 6-3, faces another U.S. junior, Valerie Ziegenfuss, who surprised with an easy 7-5, 6-1 victory over Judy Tegart of Australia.

This week's "experts" consist of sports editor Turk Pierce, former sports editors Bob Duffy and Bob Shaffer, and an self-admitted tyro, Tom Futhey. Not surprisingly, there is complete agreement only on three of the 10 contests meditated on by the "yogis".

East Liverpool over Cleveland East, Columbiana over Beaver Local, and the Kansas City Chiefs over the Houston Oilers are the only unanimous picks. Midland over Western Beaver would have been unanimous, but Futhey picked a tie.

The only game in which there was a 2-2 split was the Denver at Oakland contest, with Pierce and Duffy picking Oakland and Shaffer and Futhey going with the visiting Broncos.

In 3-1 margins, Lisbon was the choice over Southern Local, with Duffy taking Southern; West Virginia was picked over Villanova, with Duffy again the holdout, Boston was favored over San Diego, with Pierce picking an upset, Buffalo got the nod over New York, with Futhey liking the Jets, and Leetonia was chosen over United, with Duffy again the lone wolf.

Next week's games will have more college and NFL contests along with the local frays.

35-Year-Old Bunning Shuts Out Reds 9-0

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Jim Bunning is laughing at age.

The veteran pitcher of the Philadelphia Phillies will be 36 years old next month, but he's still pitching as strong as any hurler in the National League.

"I'd like to get in three more good years," the slim right-hander said Wednesday night after blanking the Cincinnati Reds, 9-0.

"Who knows," he added, "maybe then I'll pitch a little relief."

Someone said they doubted Bunning would ever pitch relief, that when he felt he was through as a starter he'd retire to that profitable stock broker job he has in the winter.

"Not if they're still paying me $75,000," said Bunning. Then he changed his outlook slightly. "I guess I wouldn't want to pitch if I couldn't produce."

Right now, he's producing. He has a 16-12 record, with probably five more starts this season. Asked if he felt he could win 20, Bunning noted "That doesn't leave me much margin for error." He has won 19 each of the last three seasons for the Phillies.

Bunning is creeping up on some notables in the record book with this latest shutout, his fifth of 1967. It was the 38th of his career, leaving him one short of Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers in career whitewashings for active pitchers.

On the all-time list, Bunning now is in 20th place in shutouts, tied with Stan Coveleski, Bill Pierce and George Rucker.

Potters Host Cleveland East In Football Opener

Visitors Weak After 2-7 Season

By Turk Pierce
Review Sports Editor

"When you're coaching a football team you always think of the bad things that can happen", East Liverpool mentor Bob NcNea says.

The Potters open their 1967 grid campaign by hosting Cleveland East High tomorrow night at 7:45 and it would take an awful lot of bad things to happen for it to be an unhappy opening for local fans.

"Both our big halfbacks could get hurt in the first period and we would have to change our whole style of offense", speculates McNea gloomily, putting up his usual pessimistic front. "Or we could fumble, or the other team could get all the breaks, or . . ."

Or East Liverpool could be playing the Green Bay Packers instead of a team that went 2-7 last year and has very few lettermen back and is picked to finis near the bottom of the Cleveland East Senate.

There are problems for the locals, however, Jim Bess suffered a cracked bone in his hand during Saturday's scrimmage and is a doubtful starter. Tom Chambers and Dick Rowley are nursing ankle injuries, and that accounts for three starters in the line. All may play, however.

McNea's major complaint is that the team has not been tested in its scrimmages. "We have the possibility of a fine team," he says, "but we won't know until we see if the boys will hit when it counts."

McNea says the offensive back field will be strong, except for a lack of breakaway speed. The offensive line and the defense are inexperienced, he notes, but have the potential to be good.

The Potter coach looks for the visiting Blue Bombers to run wide sweeps and try passes to take advantage of their speed. Lewis Barber, a 5-10, 160 senior, is the quarterback. Hurley Harris, a 5-9, 175 senior fullback, is the top runner for East.

Top linemen are end John Lang, a 6-2, 167 senior, and center Fred Williams, a 5-10, 185 senior. The defensive backfield, with Barber and James Conkle, a 5-9, 154 senior, is strong. Coach Bob Madison's team has only 31 men on the squad, as many potential football players in the school district have dropped football to continue the jobs they started his summer under anti-poverty programs.

The starting backfield for the locals will be Earl Diddle, a 5-8, 145 senior at quarterback, Mike McVay, 6-0, 182 senior and Jim Musuraca, 5-10 178 junior at fullbacks and senior Bill Jones, 5-10, 170 at fullback.

Bruce Christian, a 6-3, 180 senior, will be the tight end, and Chambers or John Johnson, a 6-0, 160 junior, will be at split end. Chambers is 5-10, 162, also a junior. Stanley Ice, 6-0, 205 senior, will be one tackle and the other will probably be John Stepien, a 6-0, 175 senior.

Bill Hopper, a 5-9, 154 senior, will be one guard and the other will be Rowley, 5-11, 160 senior or Bob Jones, 5-10, 155 senior. Center will be senior Ray Boyd, 5-9, 165, as Bess can not grip the ball to play offense.

On defense Hopper and Christian will be at the ends, Ice and Don Cochran, a 6-1, 180 junior, at tackles, and Bess or Boyd and Stepien, Bob Jones, sophomore Joe Walker, 5-10, 160 or Floyd Cranston, a 5-11, 160 junior, at guards. Linebackers will be McVay and Mike Jackson the 5-5, 123 senior "monster man." Musuraca is set at safety in the 6-2-2-1 alignment, but halfback is unsettled. Chambers or Rowley may be at one and John Johnson, or Nelson (Sonny) Clark, a 5-10, 155 junior, at the other.

There will be a pre - game parade at 8 tonight.

Potter Reserves Open Saturday

Approximately 250 boys play football in the East Liverpool school system.

Last year both junior highs, the reserves, the sophomores and the varsity all had winning records. Westgate was 3-2-1, East Junior was 4-1-1. the Sophomores were 5-1, the Reserves were 6-2, and the Varsity was 9-1 and rated tenth in Ohio.

The Junior High program is showing tremendous promise since boys now coming to the High School are well acquainted with the brand of football used by the Varsity. Since the Sophomores have a seperate schedule from the Reserves, more boys have the opportunity to play under game conditions.

Rams Choice In Coastal Division

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Green Bay will win the West. Who else? The Packers already have installed an electric heating system to warm the field for the Dec. 31 title game.

The Packers convinced both the NFL and the AFL last season when they added the Super Bowl to their triumphs in the National Football League.

Green Bay's opponent on New Year's Eve probably will be Dallas. Before that game, they must dispose of the Los Angeles Rams, who are the pick here to take the Coastal Division of the West.

It looks like a big season for the snow boot and parka set. Green Bay winds up its regular season at home, Dec. 19. If they win the Central Division, as expected, they play the Coastal winner at Green Bay Sat. Dec. 23. If they win that they play the Eastern champs Dec. 31, once more at Green Bay.

Here's the way the West looks from here:

CENTRAL

1. Green Bay
2. Detroit
3. Minnesota
4. Chicago

COASTAL

1. Los Angeles
2. San Francisco
3. Baltimore
4. Atlanta

It may take a year or two for Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski to make people forget about Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor. It may. The Gold Dust Twins are ready to cut loose after watching from the bench most of last year.

When Bart Starr can't play, Zeke Bratkowski can do the job as the Dallas Cowboys discovered in their Aug. 28 exhibition game. The Pack's 20-3 victory in preseason convinced many Texans that last year's game in the Cotton Bowl was no mistake.

Defense is the big item at Green Bay. Willie Davis, Henry Jordan and Co., plus those three linebackers and a talened deep defense shut down tight when the enemy threatens.

The runner-up to Green Bay is a wide open scramble. Minnesota appears to have troubles at quarterback, now that Fran Tarkenton is gone. Perhaps, Bud Grant, the new coach, will find the answer early but the safe thing to do is to give him time to get things together by mid-season.

"Who knows," he added, "maybe then I'll pitch a little relief."

Someone said they doubted Bunning would ever pitch relief, that when he felt he was through as a starter he'd retire to that profitable stock broker job he has in the winter.

"Not if they're still paying me $75,000," said Bunning. Then he changed his outlook slightly. "I guess I wouldn't want to pitch if I couldn't produce."

Right now, he's producing. He has a 15-12 record, with probably five more starts this season. Asked if he felt he could win 20, Bunning noted "That doesn't leave me much margin for error." He has won 19 each of the last three seasons for the Phillies.

Bunning is creeping up on some notables in the record book with this latest shutout, his fifth of 1967. It was the 38th of his career, leaving him one short of Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers in career whitewashings for active pitchers.

On the all-time list, Bunning now is in 20th place in shutouts, tied with Stan Coveleski, Bill Pierce and George Rucker.

Slim Percentage Point Separates Top 4 AL Teams

Minnesota Falls, Tigers Win Pair

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

First place in the American League is like a can of sardines, an elephant in a Volkswagen, a telephone booth holding 84 college students—crowded.

Minnesota, Chicago, Detroit and Boston all squeezed into the top spot Wednesday night in a virtual four-way tie which left baseball buffs scratching their heads to recall a similar jam so late in the season.

It took a crowbar to get a percentage point between the four as the Twins and White Sox each sported 78-61 records for a .561 percentage and the Tigers and Red Sox panted that point behind at .560 with 79-72 marks.

"We're purposely doing this," says Chicago Manager Eddie Stanky with a smile. "We want to keep football off pace."

On purpose or not the Tigers rushed in by whipping Kansus City in a twi-night doubleheader 8-5 and 6-3; the White Sox entered on tiptoes, nudging California 3-2 in 13 innings; the Red Sox made it by not playing, and the Twins made it all possible by losing an afternoon game to Cleveland 3-2.

No other games were scheduled.

Manager Cal Ermer of the Twins took his loss in stride and counted on Cleveland to help clean out the crowd.

"I hope Joe Adcock (Indian manager; plays Chicago the same way he played us," Ermer said. "He saved his best pitchers for us, knocked our hitters down and played for keeps. Cleveland has seven games left with the White Sox and four left with Boston, so the Indians could help us a great deal."

His losing pitcher, Dave Boswell, did some brooding after Luis Tiant outdueled him with a seven-hitter and singled in the two decisive runs in the fourth inning.

"I was told not to throw fastballs to Tiant because he was supposed to be a good fastball hitter," Boswell said. "So he hit a high slider."

The Twins managed two runs off Tiant, 9-9, in the sixth on Rod Carew's two-run bloop single before Tiant shut the door.

Detroit took full advantage behind Eddie Mathews and Earl Wilson.

Mathews, an old hand at helping win pennants, drove in three runs in the opener with two homers, the second capping a four-run seventh inning and snapping a 4-4 tie. His first shot tied the game 2-2 before Ramon Webster and Dick Green homered for the A's in the fifth.

Wilson made sure of becoming the first 20-game winner in the major leagues by belting a tie-breaking two-run homer in the seventh inning of the nightcap for a 4-3 lead.

The White Sox, as is their way, made the scene the hard way against still ambitious California, which had won four straight and seven of eight and could have climbed within five games of the top with a victory.

The Sox needed two runs in the 11th on pinch hitter Smoky Burgess' run-scoring double and a passed ball that let in another run to get to the 13th. Then Duane Josephson singled with one out in the 13th and Ken Berry ended the 4-hour, 43-minute battle with a runscoring double off Pete Grimino, the sixth California pitcher.

The Angels scored first in the 11th as two runs scored on Bubba Morton's single and a ground out.

OLD AND NEW. Al Kaline, a member of the Tigers for 12 years, congratulates Eddie Mathews, who just joined the club several weeks ago, after a home run that was instrumental in an 8-5 win over Kansas City at Detroit last night. The homer was the 507th of Mathew's career, spent mainly in the National League. (UPI Telephoto)

YOUR CAR

By Al Green

CARS SHOULD HAVE COLOR-CODED tail lights, green as running lights, red for brake light, and amber for turn signal. Now you have a split-second to guess if it's a stop light or tail light!

WEAR SUNGLASSES DURING DAY DRIVING — it helps your night vision. You may lose 50 to 90% of your night sight if you don't wear sunshades during a day outside, at the beach or on the water!

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY MAY become your driving license number! Massachusetts has adopted it, other states considering idea. The armed forces all use social security number as serial number.

AUSTRALIA BACK COUNTRY WILL soon have a new utility type vehicle that will "swim" across rivers and lakes, tow a trailer and meet the rugged "out back" conditions. Volkswagen is making it.

HEY! LOOKING FOR A GOOD CAR TO BUY, at a good price? How about a 1967 Dodge. Yes, I know the new ones will be out soon, that's why we can sell these at a saving to you! Stop by this week and take your pick of Dodge from M & A DODGE, 570 Broadway or M & A Dodge, Main St., Wellsville.

FUEL CELL WORK CONTINUES. GENERAL MOTORS has an experimental truck with hydrogen-oxygen fuel system. It has the range performance needed, but it's too bulky and a bit dangerous yet.

Ernie Green Injured, Conjar Brown Starter

CLEVELAND (AP) — A severe leg muscle pull will keep fullback Ernie Green on the bench when the Cleveland Browns play the Minnesota Vikings at Minneapolis Sunday in their final exhibition game.

The veteran runner also may not be available for the National Football League opener against the Dallas Cowboys Sept. 17 at Cleveland Stadium.

Green has been bothered by the muscle pull for some time but it was further aggravated in the game against the Green Bay Packers last Saturday night.

Larry Conjar has moved into the fullback spot during the practice sessions.

"Conjar will start against the Vikings," Coach Blanton Collier said Wednesday. "I want him ready in case he's needed the following week against Dallas."

The sidelining of Green and the dropping of Randy Schultz in a roster cut this week leaves the Browns short of running backs.

Charles Harraway still is bothered by a knee injury but probably could be used in an emergency. Nick Petrosante, former regular fullback for the Detroit Lions who was signed by Cleveland as a free agent about a year ago, is healthy and ready for action.

Pirates Split With Braves

Cardinals Keep Rolling Behind Briles

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

When a line drive fractured Bob Gibson's right leg two months ago, the St. Louis Cardinals' pennant hope appeared certain to crack at the seams.

Then Nelson Briles threw his right arm into the breach...and never let go.

Now Gibson's ready to put his best foot forward again, but there's no relief in sight for Briles.

Briles, an unheralded member of the bullpen brigade until July 15, when Gibson was felled by a Roberto Clemente liner, rolled to his sixth straight victory Wednesday night, scattering five hits as the National League-leading Cardinals trimmed the New York Mets 3-1.

While Briles was limiting the Mets to an unearned run, San Francisco's Gaylord Perry and Philadelphia's Jim Bunning were throwing blanks at Houston and Cincinnati, respectively.

Perry beat the Astros 2-0 with a three-hitter, running his scoreless streak to 34 innings, and Bunning flipped a six-hitter in stopping the Reds 9-0 for the 38th shutout of his career. Los Angeles downed the Chicago Cubs 6-3 and Atlanta split a doubleheader at Pittsburgh, winning the opener 4-1 and dropping the nightcap by the same score.

Briles, a stocky right-hander who finished the 1966 season with a 4-15 mark, is 11-5 this year, with seven victories in nine decisions since he stepped into the starting rotation. He has completed three of his last four starts and leads St. Louis starters with a sparkling 2.50 ERA.

The Cards were four games in front when Gibson was hurt. They lead the pack by 11½ games today.

Gibson returns to action tonight against the Mets. But Briles will not lose his spot in the rotation. Instead, Manager Red Schoendienst said, southpaw Larry Jaster will go to the bullpen.

Briles and New York's Jack Fisher were locked in a 1-1 duel until the eighth inning, when the Cards' pitcher singled, took second when left fielder Tommy Davis bobbled the ball, reached third on Lou Brock's bunt and scored on a sacrifice fly by Curt Flood. Mike Shannon's ninth-inning homer provided an insurance run.

In the National League, another placekicker, Mac Percival, was dropped by Dallas and almost as quickly, claimed by Chicago.

Green Bay sliced fullback Jim Mankins and he was immediately claimed by Detroit. The Packers also traded tackle Dick Arndt to Pittsburgh for a high draft choice.

Los Angeles dropped a couple of familiar names. The Rams cut linebacker Dan Currie and tight end Bob Jencks and placed veteran defensive tackle Roosevelt Grier on the injured list.

Kansas City sent tight end Bill Masters to Buffalo and the Bills dropped defensive end Dave Daniels and tight end Bill McLeod.

Washington claimed Dick Smith, an offensive end and defensive back, who had been placed on waivers by Dallas.

Perry, who had pitched 16 scoreless innings in the Giants' 1-0, 21-inning victory over Cincinnati last Friday night and had shut out Los Angeles in his previous start, brought his record to 12-15 by taming the Astros. He also capped the Giants' deciding two-run rally in the seventh inning with a run-scoring single.

Bunning, 15-12, added 10 strikeouts to his NL lead and pulled within one shutout of the Dodgers' Don Drysdale, who leads active pitchers with a career total of 39. The Phillies backed the veteran right-hander with a 13-hit attack in thumping Cincinnati ace Jim Maloney.

The Dodgers struck for four runs in the eighth inning to overtake the Cubs, Ron Fairley triggering the rally with a homer and Ron Hunt breaking a 3-3 tie with an RBI single. Bob Bailey and Willie Davis homered for Los Angeles and Ron Santo delivered all the Chicago runs with a homer and single.

Al McBean scattered six hits and knocked in three runs with a triple and bases-loaded walk, leading the Pirates past Atlanta after Denny Lemaster won the opener for the Braves with an eight-hitter.

Toronto, Ont. CFL Team Disbands

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Rifles of the Continental Football League have folded, says the league's public relation's director.

"It was no secret that they were losing money," publicist Harold Rosenthal said in New York "I suppose when they drew that poor crowd against Orlando last week they decided to give up.

"If they couldn't draw against the best club in the league, they must have felt it was no use going on."

Rosenthal said results of the two games the Rifles have played will stand. The Rifles defeated the Akron Vulcans 20-7 and bowed 28-14 to the Orlando Panthers.

Rifles Coach Bubba Marriott heard the news as his team was practicing for a scheduled game Saturday with the Wheeling Ironmen and passed the word on to his players.

Harold Sussman, chairman of the Board of the Rifles, refused to comment.

"We have sent out a release and I will not make any statement until it becomes public," he said.

Rumors of the club's disintegration started after Jackie Parker quit as coach 10 days ago and was replaced by Merriott.

It was learned Tuesday that Bill Stockwell resigned Friday as general manager. He resigned after club directors decided without his knowledge to sell halfback Joe Williams and guard Ed Harrington to the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League for $7,500.

Stockwell's last act as general manager was to pay the players after the game last Thursday with Orlando.

Rosenthal said the Rifles had experienced difficulty meeting their financial commitments to the league.

"There will probably be a draft of Rifle players by the rest of the teams in the league," Rosenthal said.

"I don't know what I'm going to do," Marriott said. "Maybe I'll stay and try to find a job here."

The Rifles lost an estimated $400,000 last season and $300,000 the previous season.

Columbus Wins Opener In Playoffs

By The Associated Press

After losing the International League pennant to the Richmond Braves Tuesday night, the Rochester Red Wings were defeated by Columbus 6-5 in Wednesday night's Governor's Cup Playoff Series.

In the other playoff game Richmond beat Toledo 3-0 behind the seven-hit pitching of Larry Maxie.

Columbus took the lead in the seventh inning with five runs and was never headed. First baseman Bob Robertson provided the inning's highlight with a three-run homer.

Billy Short took the win for the Jets.

B. Lusteg Claimed By Miami

By The Associated Press

Professional football teams continued to shuffle personnel Wednesday with several players cut by one club being picked up by another.

Miami of the American League claimed place kicker Booth Lusteg, who had been placed on waivers Tuesday by the Buffalo Bills. Lusteg, who scored 98 points last year on 19 of 39 field goals and 41 of 42 extra points, will battle veteran Gene Mingo for the Dolpins' placekicking job.

Jim Walker Faces Army Physical Today

BOSTON (AP) — The pro basketball career of All-America Jimmy Walker of Providence College may be interrupted almost before it gets started.

Walker, who received a reported $200,000 to sign a four-year contract with the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association, was due to return home today for an Army physical examination in Boston.

Slim Percentage Point Separates Top 4 AL Teams

Minnesota Falls, Tigers Win Pair

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

First place in the American League is like a can of sardines, an elephant in a Volkswagen, a telephone booth holding 84 college students—crowded.

Minnesota, Chicago, Detroit and Boston all squeezed into the top spot Wednesday night in a virtual four-way tie which left baseball buffs scratching their heads to recall a similar jam so late in the season.

It took a crowbar to get a percentage point between the four as the Twins and White Sox each sported 78-61 records for a .561 percentage and the Tigers and Red Sox panted that point behind at .560 with 79-72 marks.

"We're purposely doing this," says Chicago Manager Eddie Stanky with a smile. "We want to keep football off pace."

On purpose or not the Tigers rushed in by whipping Kansus City in a twi-night doubleheader 8-5 and 6-3; the White Sox entered on tiptoes, nudging California 3-2 in 13 innings; the Red Sox made it by not playing, and the Twins made it all possible by losing an afternoon game to Cleveland 3-2.

No other games were scheduled.

Manager Cal Ermer of the Twins took his loss in stride and counted on Cleveland to help clean out the crowd.

"I hope Joe Adcock (Indian manager; plays Chicago the same way he played us," Ermer said. "He saved his best pitchers for us, knocked our hitters down and played for keeps. Cleveland has seven games left with the White Sox and four left with Boston, so the Indians could help us a great deal."

His losing pitcher, Dave Boswell, did some brooding after Luis Tiant outdueled him with a seven-hitter and singled in the two decisive runs in the fourth inning.

"I was told not to throw fastballs to Tiant because he was supposed to be a good fastball hitter," Boswell said. "So he hit a high slider."

The Twins managed two runs off Tiant, 9-9, in the sixth on Rod Carew's two-run bloop single before Tiant shut the door.

Detroit took full advantage behind Eddie Mathews and Earl Wilson.

Mathews, an old hand at helping win pennants, drove in three runs in the opener with two homers, the second capping a four-run seventh inning and snapping a 4-4 tie. His first shot tied the game 2-2 before Ramon Webster and Dick Green homered for the A's in the fifth.

Wilson made sure of becoming the first 20-game winner in the major leagues by belting a tie-breaking two-run homer in the seventh inning of the nightcap for a 4-3 lead.

The White Sox, as is their way, made the scene the hard way against still ambitious California, which had won four straight and seven of eight and could have climbed within five games of the top with a victory.

The Sox needed two runs in the 11th on pinch hitter Smoky Burgess' run-scoring double and a passed ball that let in another run to get to the 13th. Then Duane Josephson singled with one out in the 13th and Ken Berry ended the 4-hour, 43-minute battle with a runscoring double off Pete Grimino, the sixth California pitcher.

The Angels scored first in the 11th as two runs scored on Bubba Morton's single and a ground out.

OLD AND NEW. Al Kaline, a member of the Tigers for 12 years, congratulates Eddie Mathews, who just joined the club several weeks ago, after a home run that was instrumental in an 8-5 win over Kansas City at Detroit last night. The homer was the 507th of Mathew's career, spent mainly in the National League. (UPI Telephoto)

Ernie Green Injured, Conjar Brown Starter

CLEVELAND (AP) — A severe leg muscle pull will keep fullback Ernie Green on the bench when the Cleveland Browns play the Minnesota Vikings at Minneapolis Sunday in their final exhibition game.

The veteran runner also may not be available for the National Football League opener against the Dallas Cowboys Sept. 17 at Cleveland Stadium.

Green has been bothered by the muscle pull for some time but it was further aggravated in the game against the Green Bay Packers last Saturday night.

Larry Conjar has moved into the fullback spot during the practice sessions.

"Conjar will start against the Vikings," Coach Blanton Collier said Wednesday. "I want him ready in case he's needed the following week against Dallas."

The sidelining of Green and the dropping of Randy Schultz in a roster cut this week leaves the Browns short of running backs.

Charles Harraway still is bothered by a knee injury but probably could be used in an emergency. Nick Petrosante, former regular fullback for the Detroit Lions who was signed by Cleveland as a free agent about a year ago, is healthy and ready for action.

Cardinals Keep Rolling Behind Briles

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

When a line drive fractured Bob Gibson's right leg two months ago, the St. Louis Cardinals' pennant hope appeared certain to crack at the seams.

Then Nelson Briles threw his right arm into the breach...and never let go.

Now Gibson's ready to put his best foot forward again, but there's no relief in sight for Briles.

Briles, an unheralded member of the bullpen brigade until July 15, when Gibson was felled by a Roberto Clemente liner, rolled to his sixth straight victory Wednesday night, scattering five hits as the National League-leading Cardinals trimmed the New York Mets 3-1.

While Briles was limiting the Mets to an unearned run, San Francisco's Gaylord Perry and Philadelphia's Jim Bunning were throwing blanks at Houston and Cincinnati, respectively.

Perry beat the Astros 2-0 with a three-hitter, running his scoreless streak to 34 innings, and Bunning flipped a six-hitter in stopping the Reds 9-0 for the 38th shutout of his career. Los Angeles downed the Chicago Cubs 6-3 and Atlanta split a doubleheader at Pittsburgh, winning the opener 4-1 and dropping the nightcap by the same score.

Briles, a stocky right-hander who finished the 1966 season with a 4-15 mark, is 11-5 this year, with seven victories in nine decisions since he stepped into the starting rotation. He has completed three of his last four starts and leads St. Louis starters with a sparkling 2.50 ERA.

The Cards were four games in front when Gibson was hurt. They lead the pack by 11½ games today.

Gibson returns to action tonight against the Mets. But Briles will not lose his spot in the rotation. Instead, Manager Red Schoendienst said, southpaw Larry Jaster will go to the bullpen.

Briles and New York's Jack Fisher were locked in a 1-1 duel until the eighth inning, when the Cards' pitcher singled, took second when left fielder Tommy Davis bobbled the ball, reached third on Lou Brock's bunt and scored on a sacrifice fly by Curt Flood. Mike Shannon's ninth-inning homer provided an insurance run.

Perry, who had pitched 16 scoreless innings in the Giants' 1-0, 21-inning victory over Cincinnati last Friday night and had shut out Los Angeles in his previous start, brought his record to 12-15 by taming the Astros. He also capped the Giants' deciding two-run rally in the seventh inning with a run-scoring single.

Bunning, 15-12, added 10 strikeouts to his NL lead and pulled within one shutout of the Dodgers' Don Drysdale, who leads active pitchers with a career total of 39. The Phillies backed the veteran right-hander with a 13-hit attack in thumping Cincinnati ace Jim Maloney.

The Dodgers struck for four runs in the eighth inning to overtake the Cubs, Ron Fairley triggering the rally with a homer and Ron Hunt breaking a 3-3 tie with an RBI single. Bob Bailey and Willie Davis homered for Los Angeles and Ron Santo delivered all the Chicago runs with a homer and single.

Al McBean scattered six hits and knocked in three runs with a triple and bases-loaded walk, leading the Pirates past Atlanta after Denny Lemaster won the opener for the Braves with an eight-hitter.

Toronto, Ont. CFL Team Disbands

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Rifles of the Continental Football League have folded, says the league's public relation's director.

"It was no secret that they were losing money," publicist Harold Rosenthal said in New York "I suppose when they drew that poor crowd against Orlando last week they decided to give up.

"If they couldn't draw against the best club in the league, they must have felt it was no use going on."

Rosenthal said results of the two games the Rifles have played will stand. The Rifles defeated the Akron Vulcans 20-7 and bowed 28-14 to the Orlando Panthers.

Rifles Coach Bubba Marriott heard the news as his team was practicing for a scheduled game Saturday with the Wheeling Ironmen and passed the word on to his players.

Harold Sussman, chairman of the Board of the Rifles, refused to comment.

"We have sent out a release and I will not make any statement until it becomes public," he said.

Rumors of the club's disintegration started after Jackie Parker quit as coach 10 days ago and was replaced by Merriott.

It was learned Tuesday that Bill Stockwell resigned Friday as general manager. He resigned after club directors decided without his knowledge to sell halfback Joe Williams and guard Ed Harrington to the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League for $7,500.

Stockwell's last act as general manager was to pay the players after the game last Thursday with Orlando.

Rosenthal said the Rifles had experienced difficulty meeting their financial commitments to the league.

"There will probably be a draft of Rifle players by the rest of the teams in the league," Rosenthal said.

"I don't know what I'm going to do," Marriott said. "Maybe I'll stay and try to find a job here."

The Rifles lost an estimated $400,000 last season and $300,000 the previous season.

Columbus Wins Opener In Playoffs

By The Associated Press

After losing the International League pennant to the Richmond Braves Tuesday night, the Rochester Red Wings were defeated by Columbus 6-5 in Wednesday night's Governor's Cup Playoff Series.

In the other playoff game Richmond beat Toledo 3-0 behind the seven-hit pitching of Larry Maxie.

Columbus took the lead in the seventh inning with five runs and was never headed. First baseman Bob Robertson provided the inning's highlight with a three-run homer.

Billy Short took the win for the Jets.

B. Lusteg Claimed By Miami

By The Associated Press

Professional football teams continued to shuffle personnel Wednesday with several players cut by one club being picked up by another.

Miami of the American League claimed place kicker Booth Lusteg, who had been placed on waivers Tuesday by the Buffalo Bills. Lusteg, who scored 98 points last year on 19 of 39 field goals and 41 of 42 extra points, will battle veteran Gene Mingo for the Dolpins' placekicking job.

In the National League, another placekicker, Mac Percival, was dropped by Dallas and almost as quickly, claimed by Chicago.

Green Bay sliced fullback Jim Mankins and he was immediately claimed by Detroit. The Packers also traded tackle Dick Arndt to Pittsburgh for a high draft choice.

Los Angeles dropped a couple of familiar names. The Rams cut linebacker Dan Currie and tight end Bob Jencks and placed veteran defensive tackle Roosevelt Grier on the injured list.

Kansas City sent tight end Bill Masters to Buffalo and the Bills dropped defensive end Dave Daniels and tight end Bill McLeod.

Washington claimed Dick Smith, an offensive end and defensive back, who had been placed on waivers by Dallas.

Jim Walker Faces Army Physical Today

BOSTON (AP) — The pro basketball career of All-America Jimmy Walker of Providence College may be interrupted almost before it gets started.

Walker, who received a reported $200,000 to sign a four-year contract with the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association, was due to return home today for an Army physical examination in Boston.

Parents Plan Own School In Bus Dispute

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Parents, upset because their children are being bused to schools in other neighborhoods, say they will start their own school.

A spokesman for the parents say they don't object to sending their children to school with Negroes, but don't want them leaving the neighborhood.

The Rev. Alan Walbridge, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, is leading a boycott of the new Columbus School on the North Side, a middle school for the sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

Officials said about 50 of the 800 students who were supposed to attend Columbus were absent the first two days. But they said they didn't know how many of the students were children of the unhappy parents.

Walbridge led a delegation of 100 parents and children who went to their old neighborhood school Wednesday to protest the busing and to map plans for the new school.

He said no definite arrangements had been made but there was some talk of using his church.

Songwriter Claimed

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Robert M. Calame, 53, one of the co-writers of orchestra leader Lawrence Welk's theme song, "Bubbles in the Wine," died Tuesday. Calame, a cab driver who formerly was an orchestra leader, worked with Welk and Frank Loesser to write the song in the late 1930s.

Ship Designer Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — William Francis Gibbs, 81, founder and president of an engineering firm that designed warships for both world wars, died Wednesday after a long illness. His firm, Gibbs & Cox, Inc., designed the SS United States, world's fastest ocean liner.

Fines Suspended For Drivers Who Attend 'School'

LISBON — John E. Clutter of Fisher Ave., East Liverpool, and Michael J. Briceland of Summitville, who attended the driver improvement program after pleading guilty to charges of reckless operation, received suspended $25 fines Tuesday in Columbiana County Southwest Court.

Judge J. L. MacDonald fined: James L. Fisher, 857 N. Holley St., Salem, following traffic too closely, $15 and costs; George R. Virden, East Liverpool RD 1, passing traffic at hill crest, $15 and costs; Thomas H. Lemmon, Lisbon RD 4, driving too fast for highway conditions, $15 and costs, and Charles S. Drakulich, Lisbon RD 5, stop sign violation, $10 and costs.

Forfeiting $20 appearance bonds were Alphonse Pawloski, Franklin, following too closely, and George H. Hoerr, McKeesport, Pa., speeding.

End Seek-Destroy Mission, Guard Cities, Morton Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thruston B. Morton, a foreign policy spokesman of Republican moderates, says the United States should end its far-ranging seek-and-destroy missions in Vietnam and protect the populated part of the country.

Make the enemy "come and try to seek and destroy us," the Kentucky Republican said in an interview.

This tactic, said Morton, might reduce by half the number of American troops needed in Vietnam.

Morton, a former assistant secretary of state in the Eisenhower administration, said some new tactic is needed. Bombing, he said, has proved not to be the solution.

He acknowledged he had once completely supported President Johnson's decision to bomb North Vietnam, adding: "I thought this would bring them to the conference table in six months. But I was wrong."

Nor does Morton agree with such hawks as Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., who charge the administration with handcuffing U.S. air power and call for more intensive bombing.

"More of the same isn't going to get them to the conference table," said Morton. "The real thing we've got to change is the ground strategy."

Morton questioned why elite Marine and army units should be sent into the sparsely populated jungle regions "where the casualties have been" and then withdrawn.

Instead, he said, "we should pacify the 20 per cent of the ground area where 80 per cent of the people are."

Add a tablespoon of grated orange rind to that custard-pie filling (along with the usual vanilla flavoring). Delicious flavor change!

2,200 Face Layoff Unless Strike Ends

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Officials of the General American Transportation Corp. at Masury said Wednesday that the 2,200 workers at the company's plants there will be laid off if an unauthorized strike is not ended by the end of the week. Some layoffs already have taken place at the south plant, which was not involved in the strike.

Nine hundred production workers at the north plant left their jobs Aug. 25 in a complaint about safety conditions.

Some Senators Irritated Because Of Debate Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some senators are irritated because they're unable to use in debate classified information they acquire in dealing with military and foreign policy. They complain that secrecy requirements imposed by the Defense and State departments often hinder them in making an effective public case for viewpoints on controversial issues.

The protests have appeared with increasing frequency in floor discussions, committee hearings and official reports.

No senator has suggested elimination of the authority of the Defense and State departments to classify material in the interest of national security. The authority extends to transcripts of testimony of congressional committees at which representatives of those departments appear. But some members say the authority to keep information secret has been abused.

"The members of the executive branch of the government have gone far out of line in classifynig material to which the American people are entitled," commented Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., during a debate on defense appropriations.

Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., of the Senate preparedness subcommittee, has said Congress should "insist upon our rights and not be satisfied when the administration sends matters back and declares they are classified."

He suggested any agency seeking to keep secret the material it has submitted to Congress be required to appear before the appropriate committee to justify its position.

In debate over whether U.S. military aid to underdeveloped nations should be curtailed, for example, each side insisted it could prove its case to the public if it were not for the secrecy requirement imposed by the executive branch.

"True debate is impossible under such a handicap," said Sen. Albret Gore, D-Tenn.

Urging approval of the cutback, he questioned whether national security required secrecy for the amount of U.S. military aid that went to other nations.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Foreign Relations Committee said if all the facts about military aid were known "it would be difficult for the administration to obtain the money."

Two Ohio Projects Receive U.S. Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Ohio projects received funds from the Department of Housing and Urban Development Wednesday.

Dayton was granted a $217,200 increase to a total of $929,276 to help finance preparation of a community renewal program.

Akron's metropolitan area transit authority received a grant of $17,687 to help finance studies aimed at improving mass transportation in the Akron Area.

Four More Ohioans Killed In Viet Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced Wednesday the names of four more Ohioans killed in Vietnam.

Army 2nd Lt. Michael De Camp of Cincinnati; Marine Cpl. Nicholas Wagman of Cincinnati, and Marine Pfc. Jerry Beley of Akron were killed in action.

Army Pfc. Robert Stebner of Streetsboro's name was changed from missing in action to killed in action.

Injuries Claim Girl

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Laura Santoferraro, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Santoferraro, died in Children's Hospital Wednesday of injuries suffered Aug. 31 when she was hit by a car near her home in the North Hill section of Akron.

2,200 Face Layoff Unless Strike Ends

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Officials of the General American Transportation Corp. at Masury said Wednesday that the 2,200 workers at the company's plants there will be laid off if an unauthorized strike is not ended by the end of the week. Some layoffs already have taken place at the south plant, which was not involved in the strike.

Nine hundred production workers at the north plant left their jobs Aug. 25 in a complaint about safety conditions.

Some Senators Irritated Because Of Debate Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some senators are irritated because they're unable to use in debate classified information they acquire in dealing with military and foreign policy. They complain that secrecy requirements imposed by the Defense and State departments often hinder them in making an effective public case for viewpoints on controversial issues.

The protests have appeared with increasing frequency in floor discussions, committee hearings and official reports.

No senator has suggested elimination of the authority of the Defense and State departments to classify material in the interest of national security. The authority extends to transcripts of testimony of congressional committees at which representatives of those departments appear. But some members say the authority to keep information secret has been abused.

"The members of the executive branch of the government have gone far out of line in classifynig material to which the American people are entitled," commented Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., during a debate on defense appropriations.

Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., of the Senate preparedness subcommittee, has said Congress should "insist upon our rights and not be satisfied when the administration sends matters back and declares they are classified."

He suggested any agency seeking to keep secret the material it has submitted to Congress be required to appear before the appropriate committee to justify its position.

In debate over whether U.S. military aid to underdeveloped nations should be curtailed, for example, each side insisted it could prove its case to the public if it were not for the secrecy requirement imposed by the executive branch.

"True debate is impossible under such a handicap," said Sen. Albret Gore, D-Tenn.

Urging approval of the cutback, he questioned whether national security required secrecy for the amount of U.S. military aid that went to other nations.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Foreign Relations Committee said if all the facts about military aid were known "it would be difficult for the administration to obtain the money."

Two Ohio Projects Receive U.S. Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Ohio projects received funds from the Department of Housing and Urban Development Wednesday.

Dayton was granted a $217,200 increase to a total of $929,276 to help finance preparation of a community renewal program.

Akron's metropolitan area transit authority received a grant of $17,687 to help finance studies aimed at improving mass transportation in the Akron Area.

Four More Ohioans Killed In Viet Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced Wednesday the names of four more Ohioans killed in Vietnam.

Army 2nd Lt. Michael De Camp of Cincinnati; Marine Cpl. Nicholas Wagman of Cincinnati, and Marine Pfc. Jerry Beley of Akron were killed in action.

Army Pfc. Robert Stebner of Streetsboro's name was changed from missing in action to killed in action.

Injuries Claim Girl

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Laura Santoferraro, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Santoferraro, died in Children's Hospital Wednesday of injuries suffered Aug. 31 when she was hit by a car near her home in the North Hill section of Akron.

Weight - watchers can have their fill of lettuce! A quarterhead supplies only about 12 calories. But don't lavish ordinary salad dressing on that lettuce because it has calories a-plenty.

2 IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Edwin S. (Bud) Bettis who passed away one year ago Sept. 7, 1966. Although your eyes are closed your memory will linger on forever. By your wife Doris. Sons Dick and Terry and granddaughters Kendra and Kathy and all those who loved you.

3 CARD OF THANKS

Thanks to all our good friends and neighbors who so kindly helped out in the sickness and death of our mother and wife. Especially do we wish to thank Dr. Hays and the nurses of the Osteopathic Hospital for their never tiring hospitality and care they gave her in her hour of need. Also Fr. Cavanaugh, the Haugh Funeral Home and St. John's Hospital in Steubenville. Erny Edmundson and family.

WE wish to express our thanks and appreciation to the nurses, nurses aides, and orderlies on 3 North at East Liverpool City Hospital, Rev. Grafton, Rev. Mitchell, Rev. Hobson, Dr. Rugh, the Dawson Funeral Home and neighbors and friends who were so thoughtful and kind during the long illness and loss of our father.
—JOHN HARVEY FAMILY

Our heartfelt thanks to our many friends, relatives and neighbors for their kind sympathy during bereavement and loss of our dear mother and grandmother, Catherine L. Gibson; also many thanks to Rev. William H. Hohman, Mr. Dawson, those who sent Masses, flowers, cards, food and helped in any way. — Mary Ellen Wolfgang and Grandchildren

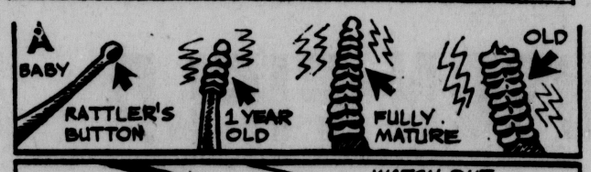
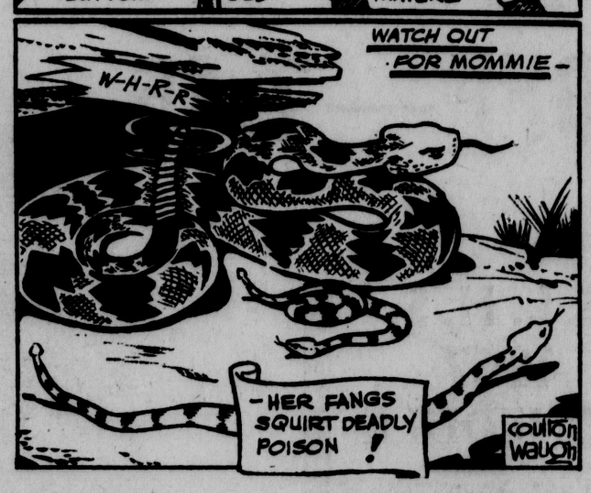
Junior Editors Quiz on RATTLESNAKES





QUESTION: Do rattlesnakes have rattles when they are born?

ANSWER: Some snakes are oviparous, laying eggs from which little snakes are hatched. Rattlesnakes are viviparous. Their young are born alive. After being born, the young rattlesnake goes off on his own in a very short time. Our picture shows that on the tip end of the young snake's tail is a kind of button. It is something with which he is born. Is this a rattle? It is the beginning of one, but it is hardly a real rattle, because the little snake can't make a rattling noise with it. The several segments of a grown-up rattler's rattle fit loosely together. It is this that makes the sound when the snake shakes the end of its tail. A few months after birth, an actual rattle segment will form under a young snake's button and then he can produce a faint rattling sound. As each new segment grows, the sound becomes stronger. About three segments are produced in one year. What is the purpose of the rattle? Scientists are not entirely sure, but some think the noise gives warning to large animals which might otherwise step on the snake.

THE COACH'S CORNER

by—
BOB McNEA

As the time grows close to the first game of a new season, the coach is very apprehensive as to the outcome of the coming season. A coach knows, better than most people believe, the strength and weaknesses of the ball club each year. However, the future is so unpredictable for all of us and even more so in sports.

As a coach ponders as to what may take place this season, one hopefully thinks of the good things that could happen . . . no injuries, no dropped passes, no fumbles, few key penalties, no interceptions, and the players performing better than they did in practice . . . a constant hope and dream of all coaches.

Then there is the fearful evaluation — Key injuries, dropped passes in the open, fumbles in dangerous areas, careless interceptions, and players performing poorer than in practice . . . are possibilities on every team.

Many fans have said to me in previous seasons, as well as this one, "How are we going to do this year?" The frustration of this question is that I DO NOT KNOW. I can guess . . as they can . . but I can not evaluate the unpredictable . . and in most key games this is what determines the outcome. This was true last season . . and it will be true again this season.

I do not wish to embarass any boy by public evaluation of his strength or weakness in football.

On offense, as a whole, our line will not be quite as good as last year, at this time, while our backfield should be better but not as fast.

On defense we will be inexperienced as 9 starters from last year's team will not return. We think our defense will get better as the season goes on but we do not know how well it will perform in the early games.

For the fans that never had the honor and thrill of playing in a varsity football game I would like to point out that the boys performing each week for us are doing so with thousands of persons watching their every move.

I wonder how well all of us would do in our daily endeavors with so many critics on hand. Cleaning the house, fixing beds, baking a cake, fixing a motor or whatever our job may be, with thousands of friends, relatives and non-well-wishers telling how we should have done it is a tremendous handicap to overcome . . . equally so for these young boys.

Please cheer them on, pat them on the back, wish them well, for they try so very hard to please YOU and ME.
